Remembers Scar on Her Mother, Gets an Estate

Daughter of John Butler Once "King of Blackfoot," Proves Her Identity and Supreme Court Sustains Her Contention for $10,000 Share in His Property.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 1.—Residents of Blackfoot, a rich section of Boone County are assembled in groups around Hinton's general store today discussing the Supreme Court's decision in the locally famous Vantine-Butler case. It is Blackfoot's greatest romance since the pioneer days.

The Court's decision sustains that of the Boone County Circuit Court that Mrs. Lizzie Vantine of Los Angeles, Cal., is the daughter of that wife whom old John Butler—once called "King of Blackfoot"—drove away from his door before the Civil War. As such she will share the rich Butler estate in this neighborhood, her part being valued at approximately $10,000.

Her relationship was established largely by her personal resemblance to her father and the remembrance of a scar on her mother's arm. The scar was caused by a burn. These things, backed by the testimony of many persons, won the decision which the Supreme Court sustained.

In the ante-bellum days, Butler was a wagon maker in Blackfoot. His first wife was a Miss Jane Gordon, a girl of Irish descent, cousin of former Secretary of State McGrath. She was young and beautiful, but she had a quarrel with her husband and one day he turned her out of his house.

It is said that the excitement and fatigue hastened the birth of her daughter and that the child was born in a hazel thicket, not far from her father's home.

Mother and baby lived from hand to mouth in the neighborhood for a few years, Mrs. Butler working for their board at different farmhouses.

About that time war broke out. The woman and baby were found straggling along a road near Mexico, Mo., by a regiment of Catholic Union soldiers. The baby became the pet of the troopers until their Colonel took the child to Paris, Mo., and gave her to Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Wetmore, who adopted her. The mother disappeared.

She reappeared at the Wetmore home later in the war, claimed her child, but was satisfied to take a picture of the daughter and go away. She died a short while afterwards.

Butler entered the Union Army as wagon master and served four years. He came back home after the war, began to buy up land and finally grew rich, being known as the "King of Blackfoot," where he owned 2700 acres of land. He conducted a church, free to all denominations, and operated various small manufacturing enterprises. Before he died he had married twice more, divorcing the second wife, by whom he had several children, and being survived by the third, Mrs. Mary Butler, who was defendant in the case. His last wife is of the same faith as was his first, a Roman Catholic, and Butler united with that church, which he formerly professed to hate.

It was 40 years afterwards when Attorney Gillaspy of Columbia started to pick up the story. He traced the child's history and established that she was Mrs. Lizzine Vantine, now of Los Angeles, and a grandmother. Her resemblance to her father was so pronounced that the jury confirmed her identity immediately and established her legitimacy. The case was appealed and the Supreme Court in affirming the decision has made her heir to one-sixth of Butler's estate.

PAWNSHOP SLAYER TRAILED, CAPTURE EXPECTED FRIDAY

Police Expect Momentarily to Get Man Who Shot Down George Wurzburger.

The robber who killed George Wurzburger in the Cowperthwait pawnshop on the night of Jan. 31, is within arm's reach of the police, according to Chief of Police Young and Chief of Detectives Allender. They are expecting to hear at any moment that he has been captured.

The identity of the slayer has been established, his destination after the murder is known, his photograph has been identified by witnesses and the police have what they consider enough circumstantial evidence to convict him.

Detective Sergt. J. Harvey James and Detective Michael J. (Darby) O'Brien are in Mississippi, and at police headquarters it is confidently believed that a telegram announcing the arrest of the fugitive will be received from the detectives Friday.

Starting with a clew of a pair of cuff buttons bearing the initials "S. A. C." and the entry of the same initials on the loan book, an entry which had just been made the night of the shooting, the detectives went back through the records of the pawnshop and found that the same buttons had been pawned there a month before. They also had been pawned twice before that.

George Wurzburger was alone in the place about 7:30 p. m. Jan. 31 when he was attacked. He was shot in the left temple and dumped down a flight of stairs into a basement. His assailant stole 200 gold watches and $425. He carried the loot away in an alligator bag belonging to the shop. Wurzburger died Feb. 5. Once he regained consciousness long enough to say "somebody rushed me."

Julius Wurzburger, manager of the pawnshop and father of the slain man, had made loans on the cuff buttons and he remembered the name of the young man who pawned them. The detectives also learned that the young man was known at other pawnshops downtown. It was said he was a St. Louisan, formerly in the United States service.

On the morning of the shooting the young man had complained to associates that he was broke, but had added that he would "have a bunch of kale by night."

After the shooting he appeared among his acquaintances with money. He explained that he had come into an inheritance. For several days before the shooting he had been telling friends that he wanted to go to Florida for the winter, if he could raise money. He mentioned a town in Mississippi where he would stop over to visit friends.

Julius Wurzburger obtained for the detectives a photograph of the young man under suspicion. It was shown to a business man on Pine street, who said he [illegible] duplicate of the photograph [illegible] pawnshop the night [illegible]

TO PREVENT 'COLDS' FROM 'LOW NECKS' TAKE COLD BATHS

Dr. H. W. Loeb Gives Advice to Women Who Wear Diaphanous Gowns in Winter.

The secret of how women may dress with impunity on winter nights in decolete gowns, diaphanous lingerie, filmy stockings and filmsy slippers, was revealed Thursday night by Dr. H. W. Loeb in a lecture at the St. Louis Medical Society. His description on how to be stylish and at the same time avoid contracting cold, is as follows:

Take a cold bath every morning.

"One cold night after the opera," he said, "I saw women walking on Grand avenue in what appeared to be kimonas, with silk stockings and satin pumps. They were well-dressed, but poorly clad. If they insist upon wearing such clothes, they should at least take a cold bath every morning to accustom themselves to the shock."

A loud nasal blast from one of the audience supplied the physician with a text.

"When you blow your nose," he said, "do not grab the proboscis roughly, but handle it gently, as if it were Dresden china. If you blow hard, a pressure of air is created on the inside of the head which expands the ear drums—a very dangerous thing."

He said that the removal of adenoids has reduced deafness 25 per cent.

The lecture was the seventh of a series on public health arranged by the American Medical Association.

20 BALL FIELDS, 28 TENNIS COURTS IN ST. LOUIS PARKS

Commissioner Also Arranging for Other Recreation Spots in City's Big Preserves.

POOLS FOR SWIMMERS

Natural Amphitheater Is Being Projected for Spectators at Forest Park.

Twenty new baseball fields and 28 new tennis courts will be constructed in the public parks of St. Louis under the supervision of Park Commissioner Davis for use next summer. A natural amphitheater on the side of the hill in Carondelet Park will be laid out overlooking three new baseball grounds.

Wading pools now are being constructed at convenient parks and others are planned. Open air swimming pools are projected in Fairgrounds, O'Fallon and Forest Park, according to Davis. Dressing rooms and shelter buildings will adjoin these pools.

The plateau at the base of the hill near the lagoons in front of the Art Museum at Forest Park will be laid out as an immense playground, with fields for polo, croquet and drills. Boathouses and water polo equipment also will be supplied.

Would Include Golf Links.

If it is deemed advisable to lay out free golf links, Park Commissioner Davis plans to use this plateau for this purpose. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday that the golf links could be laid out on the plateau at nominal expense, and the cost for maintainance would be small, because the grounds will be kept for the other sports.

Fairground Park will have eight new baseball fields, and 10 new tennis courts in an effort to relieve the crowded condition of the playgrounds in O'Fallon Park. The Park Commissioner is planning to construct an openair swimming pool 100 by 150 feet. It will be modeled after the Chicago pools, with concrete walls and dressing rooms.

A wading pool is now in process of construction in O'Fallon Park, at a cost of $5000. An ordinance is pending in the Municipal Assembly to authorize an appropriation of $20,000 to construct in O'Fallon Park a boathouse, dressing room, pergolas and shelter house overlooking the lake and adjoining the wading pool. If the bill is passed in time the structure will be completed in time for use this summer.

Plans New Playfield.

Two new tennis courts, three baseball fields and a natural grandstand seating 2000 persons will complete the planned improvements at Carondelet Park this year. Park Commissioner Davis is trying to find a plot in the central southern part of the city for a new playfield in that section. Tower Grove Park is not under the jurisdiction of the Park Department and is not available for that use.

Ten new baseball fields and 16 new tennis courts will be laid out in Forest Park. There are now four baseball fields in the park, but there are no tennis courts. Many croquet grounds will be provided and a swimming pool is planned.

MATRON MADE DETECTIVE

NEW YORK, March 1.—Mrs. Isabella Goodwin, a police matron, to whose credit is placed the capture of the taxicab robbers, who recently held up two bank messengers and procured $25,000, was advanced today to the rank of first-grade detective at a salary of $2250 by Police Commissioner Waldo in recognition of her services.

LAMBERT TRAINS WITH BOXER, NOT IN HORTENSE PLACE

Exercises With Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan to Regain Health After Operation.

LIVING WITH RELATIVE

Meantime, Wife of Pharmacal Company Vice-President Presides Over Their Mansion.

Marion L. J. Lambert, scion of the wealthy Lambert family and vice-president of the Lambert Pharmacal Co., denied Friday a story printed in a morning newspaper that he is training "Brooklyn Tommy" Sullivan, a pugilist, at the fashionable Lambert residence at 10 Hortense place, and permitting the boxer to take his meals and baths there.

Lambert volunteered the information to a Post-Dispatch reporter who called at his office to inquire about the pugilist story, that he has not been living at the Hortense place dwelling, but has resided with his brother-in-law, Dr. Malvern B. Clopton, at 5391 Waterman avenue. He declined, when questioned, to discuss his domestic affairs or the fact that he and Mrs. Lambert are occupying separate domiciles.

At the Lambert home earlier in the morning, Mrs. Lambert could not be seen. A maid stated that Lambert was not at the house and that he was not residing there.

Went From Clopton's to Hospital.

For some months Lambert has been living at Dr. Clopton's home. It was from there he was taken to St. Luke's Hospital six weeks ago when stricken with appendicitis. He has spent the weeks of his convalescence at the Clopton home.

Lambert has had recourse to Sullivan's care to assist in restoring his health. In the afternoons, he said, they usually meet at the gymnasium of the St. Louis Club, and in the mornings take a jog through the park. Even this training, Lambert said, has been suspended for the last four days because he has been vaccinated.

"For 11 or 12 years," said Lambert, "I have been working out with Tommy Sullivan. I regard him as a very loyal, clever gentleman; not as a pugilist, but as a friend.

"It is not true that Tommy has been training, eating and living at my home. It is not that he isn't welcome, but he has his own family of a wife and two children at his home on Henrietta street, near Grand avenue.

They Meet at St. Louis Club.

"He doesn't even come to the home in Hortense place or to Dr. Clopton's house. We meet at the St. Louis Club gymnasium at 3 o'clock each afternoon, and until the severe weather set in, were accustomed to take a walk in the park each morning.

"It is nonsense to say that I am training Tommy for his bout Monday night with Oliver Kirk at the Irish-American Athletic Club. It would be foolish to try to put me in the same class with Tommy as a boxer. In a real test of skill he could knock me all over the room."

Lambert denied with vehemence that he bore a split lip as a result of his exercise with the pugilist, and displayed the lip to prove his point.

"Tommy wouldn't think of hurting me," he said. He said the report of his training Sullivan probably arose from the fact that, several years ago, he maintained a gymnasium on the second floor of the Hortense place residence, in which he and Sullivan exercised together.

Home a Pretentious One.

Lambert is 31 years old and has been vice-president of the pharmacal company since 1903. He is a member of the St. Louis, University, Mercantile, Noonday, St. Louis Country and Glen Echo clubs. He is a brother of Albert Bond and Wooster Lambert, the latter of whom is rated as the wealthiest bachelor in St. Louis. The Marion Lambert home is one of the most pretentious in Hortense place.

Mrs. Lambert is regarded as a perfect blonde, and has been called one of the most beautiful women in St. Louis society. She is described as "stunning." She is known for her wit and vivacity. She was formerly Miss Florence Parker of Richmond, Va. Her two children are with her at the Hortense place residence.

WATERS PIERCE A NEW GUISE K... UP TEXAS BUSIN...

Adams Testifies Pierce-Fordyce Association Virtually Maintained Corporation's Identity After It Had Been Ousted.

Declares New Concern Had No Offices in St. Louis, but Waters Pierce Employe Was Its Secretary.

Swears Waters Pierce Paid Boyle & Priest $320,000 a Fees and $10,000 as Re tainer for Conducting Pres ent Fight.

Charges that the Waters Pie[illegible] has by a subterfuge continued [illegible] business in Texas, after having [illegible] legally ousted from that State, and that the company is being made to pay the expenses of H. Clay Pierce's present fight to retain control of it, were brought out Friday in the testimony of Charles M. Adams, former secretary and treasurer of the company, before Special Commissioner McDonald.

Adams is one of the three men, supported by the Rockefeller interests, which own 96 per cent of the Pierce company, suing to compel their installation as directors, following the election of Feb. 15, at which votes cast for them were disregarded.

The Pierce faction charged, in its reply, that the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey was seeking to retain control of the subsidiary corporations which were severed from it by the United States Supreme Court, and that the machinery of the three men for the Waters Pierce directorate represented a part of this conspiracy.

Similar Charge Against Pierce.

The lawyers for the Pierce interest called Adams as a witness and the lawyers for the three plaintiffs, in cross-examination, sought to show that the Pierce concern, which charges the Standard with seeking to evade a court order, has itself resorted to similar practices in Texas. Therefore, they contend, the Pierce faction does not come into court with clean hands.

In reply to the questions of his [illegible] lawyers, Adams, Friday, related the manner in which, he said, the company had continued to do business in Texas since the ouster, under the name of the Pierce-Fordyce association.

"He told of the payment of $320,000 [illegible] to the firm of Boyle & Priest [illegible] fees, and said that Feb. 14 last $[illegible] more was paid the firm, from the company's funds, as a retainer for the services it now is giving in fighting the suit. He said Clay Arthur Pierce, son of H. Clay Pierce, got $25,000 a year as president of the company, and that A. M. Finlay, the elder Pierce's brother-in-law, got $12,000 as vice-president.

These statements were brought out by the questions of D. N. Kirby, one of the lawyers for Adams, Stewart and Mayer. The attorneys for the other side have announced their purpose to institute a nation-wide inquiry into the conspiracy by which, they declare, the Standard is trying to re-establish itself.

Adams Paid for Stock.

Asked about his own share of stock in the company, Adams said he paid for it from his own funds, but that when he went to vote it at the election John D. Johnson, as teller, refused to receive his vote, saying it was excluded "on the same ground as the others."

He said he first heard of the re[illegible] zation plan in his talk with [illegible] Stewart, one of the Ro[illegible] dates for director of the [illegible] Co., at the Jefferson [illegible]

He was questioned [illegible] about the Pierce Fordyce Association, and said [illegible] Rockefeller was president, and that he did not know personally who was H. NEGRO SLAYER OF TWO MEN FREED ON FIRST TRIAL

James Weathers, Nonunion Driver, Contended He Shot in Self-Defense.

James Weathers, a negro nonunion driver, who shot and killed Patrick Kane and William Keane, striking union teamsters, at Broadway and Mullanphy street, July 6, 1911, was acquitted Friday, by a jury in Judge Rassieur's court of a charge of murder in the second degree. He was tried for the death of Kane. A similar charge growing out of Keane's death will be heard against Weathers at the next term of court.

Weathers was a driver for the Ehrler Drayage Co., and was hauling paper from the warehouse of the General Paper Co., Eighth and Mullanphy streets. The striking union men had their headquarters at this corner, and it was brought out in testimony that Kane, Keane and other union officials followed Weathers when he drove away with a load.

Two Women Testify.

The principal witnesses for the prosecution were Miss Tillie Newman, 2200 Palm street; Miss Edna Sheets, 1601 North Broadway, and Harry Schurmann, a union driver, 1602 Semple avenue. The young women, who were employed by the Vane-Calvert Paint Co., Broadway and Mullanphy street, testified a crowd gathered around Weathers' wagon and that he shot because some of the men were trying to make him alight. On cross-examination, they said either Kane or Keane threw a rock at Weathers.

Schurmann admitted that he drove his wagon in front of Weathers' team. Arthur S. Fisher of the Van-Calvert Paint Co. testified Keane hit Weathers on the head with a rock and climbed on the wagon to make him get down. Then, he said, Weathers took a revolver from under the cushion and began shooting. There were many witnesses, and some sharp conflicts of testimony.

As the total amount paid for the property was $1,585,871.81, Adams was asked what became of the balance. He said part was paid out in a deal with the I. & G. N. Railroad, and was transferred from the receiver's books, leaving a balance due.

"What other amounts were paid on this liability?"

"The Pierce-Fordyce association gave the Waters Pierce Co. two notes dated Aug. 23, 1910, one for $75,000, to run six months, and one for $87,154.47, to run nine months, and both at 5 per cent interest. These notes were paid."

Adams said that under Clay Pierce's instructions, he gave credit on the books to the Pierce-Fordyce Oil association for the $61,807.39 balance due the Waters Pierce from H. C. Pierce. He was asked whether this balance represented Pierce's entire indebtedness to the Waters Pierce, and replied that it represented all but some small interest on a $25,000 note given Aug. 8 last and paid two days later.

He said the crediting of the $61,807.39 to the Pierce-Fordyce association was not authorized by the directors as such, that he was consulted about it in his capacity as director, and that he knew nothing of it until he returned from his vacation last September.

Pierce Required Indemnity Bond.

The witness testified that before Henry Clay Pierce paid $670,000 for the Texas property he required an indemnity bond and collateral in the shape of $700,000 in 30 gold notes issued to the Waters Pierce Co. Six of these have been returned. The others are yet held by Pierce, he said.

He was questioned again about attorneys' fees and said the last statement for last year included $828,000 up to Dec. 31, and that of this $320,000 went to the firm of Boyle & Priest. Feb. 14, he said, Boyle & Priest gave a bill for $10,000 and $400 or $500 for expenses. John D. Johnson and Samuel Fordyce, he said, were on the regular payroll.

The $10,000 paid to Boyle & Priest in February was a retainer in the fight of Pierce to retain control of the Waters Pierce Oil Co., Adams testified. The inference from this testimony was that the company was being made to pay the lawyers' fees in Pierce's fight to prevent the Rockefeller interests from exercising control of the corporation.

Adams testified that neither Andrew M. Finlay, brother-in-law of Henry Clay Pierce, and Charles P. Ackert, his cousin, were stockholders of record at the time of the annual stockholders' meeting, Feb. 15. They were elected directors and officers of the company by the Pierce interests.

"What salary does the Waters Pierce Co. pay its president, Clay Arthur Pierce?" asked Attorney Kirby.

"His salary is now $25,000 a year, and has been for two or three years."

"What relation is he to H. C. Pierce?"

"A son."

Pierce Worked in the Yards.

Adams testified that prior to Clay Pierce's election as president of the company he had worked in the yards, made a trip to Mexico and acted as assistant treasurer in such capacity signing checks and approving vouchers in the absence of the treasurer. Kirby tried to get Adams to say whether Pierce was qualified by experience for the presidency, but he declined to give an opinion. He said young Pierce was elected president in 1905, to succeed Andrew M. Finlay. His salary was at first $12,000 a year, but it was soon increased to $15,000 and then to $25,000.

"What salary does A. M. Finlay get as vice-president of the company?"

"He gets $12,000 a year as vice-president. As president he drew $15,000."

Relative to the contract between the Waters Pierce Oil Co. and the Huasteca Oil Co. of Mexico, by which Waters Pierce was to purchase 2,500,000 barrels of oil, Adams testified that this contract had proven unprofitable to the company. It was not customary, he said, to purchase such large amounts of oil. The company contracted to pay 92½ cents a barrel for the oil, he said, and the same oil was now selling on the market at 50 cents a barrel. The company borrowed $850,000 to pay for the oil, paying 6 per cent interest on the loan, and a commission of 2½ per cent, or $21,250, to Speyer & Co., Speyer Brothers, Thalmann & Co. of New York, for getting the money.

What the Opposing Lawyers Contend in Kimmel Case

FOR THE PLAINTIFF.
(Receiver of Niles Bank, Holding $5000 Kimmel Insurance Policy.)

THAT Kimmel is dead.

That claimant is not Kimmel.

That claimant is "Turkey" White.

That Swinney's story of Kimmel's death is unshaken, except as to one date on which Swinney later corrected himself.

That Kimmel's mother and sister repudiate the claimant.

THAT those accepting the claimant are principally women who have kissed him. The men, who would not kiss him, fail to recognize him.

That the insurance application states Kimmel's height as 5 feet 10 inches, while the claimant, by Bertillon measurement, is 5 feet 7½ inches in height. That shoes could not account for more than an inch of this difference.

That Kimmel owed only $23,000 at the time of disappearance, and that settlement of his affairs by sister and uncle left debt of only $6000, not a sufficient indebtedness to furnish motive for disappearance.

That Kimmel, as a youth, cared devotedly for his mother and sister, and when he went, in a spirit of adventure, to New Orleans, he refused to take money which they needed, and undertook to make his own way, causing him to get into trouble with the police there.

THAT absence of scar on claimant's eyeball, such as was inflicted by Dr. Bonine's operation on Kimmel, conclusively discredited claimant.

FOR THE DEFENSE.
(The New York Life Insurance Co.)

THAT Kimmel is alive.

That claimant is Kimmel.

That claimant is not "Turkey" White.

That R. M. Snyder Jr., by testimony as to his father's whereabouts in July and August, 1898, completely upset Swinney's story.

That the mother and sister are financially interested.

THAT Kimmel's former sweethearts and a number of his close friends accept claimant, while those repudiating him aside from the family, were only casual acquaintances.

That the Pinkerton circular issued after Kimmel's disappearance, containing the description furnished by relatives, gave his height as 5 feet 8. The claimant, measured in prison, was in stocking feet.

That Kimmel owed $52,000 and that his financial entanglements offered a motive for disappearance.

That Kimmel showed his bent toward mysterious disappearance, and also a criminal instinct, by his conduct in New Orleans, which caused him to be arrested and put on the chain gang.

THAT Dr. Bonine's testimony was discredited by his admission that he made no entry on his books as to alleged operation until after seeing claimant at Auburn.

Jury Must Decide Whether Kimmel Is Living or Dead

gon forest, on the return from a hunt for buried gold.

The principal witness offered by the defense to controvert Swinney's story was R. M. Snyder Jr., who offered documents to prove that his late father had not, as Swinney testified, accompanied Swinney, Kimmel and Johnson on the alleged expedition for buried gold.

Attorney Sweet, in his address to the jury, said that none of the papers offered by the younger Snyder indicated anything definite as to his father's whereabouts, with the exception of a deed which purported to have been signed by Snyder Aug. 14, 1898, in New York. Sweet said that, although young Snyder testified that this deed was in a matter of rushing business importance, the record showed that it was not filed until Oct. 21. The August date, Sweet said, might be accounted for by anyone familiar with methods sometimes used to obtain alibis.

Attacks Swinney's Story.

Judson, on the other hand, contended that all the testimony of young Snyder indicated the absence of Snyder from the buried gold expedition, and that Swinney's story, if shown to be false in this vital particular, should be wholly disregarded. With Swinney's story discarded, he argued, no evidence would remain of Kimmel's death.

"The defense does not have to prove that Kimmel is alive," he told the jury, "but the plaintiff must show that Kimmel is dead, and that he was dead when this suit was filed."

Judson attacked Dr. Bonine's testimony that he performed an operation which left a scar on Kimmel's left eye, and asked why Bonine did not enter a charge for the operation on his books until after his return from a visit to the claimant in Auburn Prison.

Sweet asked why the defense had not put on the witness stand the two oculists whom it employed to take part in the examination of the claimant's eyes to see whether the Bonine scar was there and whether the eyes could ever have been of another color than their present blue. Kimmel's eyes were brown.

PERJURY CHARGE TO FOLLOW SALOON ROW

Judge Orders Inquiry in Case of Joseph Gansorowski Whose License Was Revoked.

After Joseph Gansorowski, a saloon keeper at 1306 North Twelfth street, had testified in the Clark Avenue Police Court against Albert Kiyaejrskie Friday, Judge Kimmel ordered that he be taken to the Circuit Attorney's office to be charged with suborning perjury.

Gansorowski's saloon license was revoked. He had a barrel of beer left and he invited 40 Market street hoboes to consume the beer. He quarreled with Kiyaejrskie. William Lewis, negro porter of the saloon, testified that Gansorowski tried to induce him to swear that Kiyaejrskie stole a beer faucet from the saloon.

COURT ALLOWS PAY FOR SALE OF CAPITOL BONDS

Decision Gives Power to Board to Offer a Commission to Vendors.

FRIENDLY SUIT BROUGHT

Bids for Securities Covered Only a Fraction of the Authorized Issue.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 1.—The Supreme Court today held that the State Board of Fund Commissioners has authority to sell $3,218,000 bonds for building a new State capitol, by paying a commission for making the sale. It is specified by the court, however, that such commission cannot be paid to a purchaser of the bonds.

The opinion in the case was filed in the court in banc by Judge Graves and concurred in by all the judges except Brown. The latter, while holding that the issue of the bonds was legal, contends that the Fund Commissioners have no authority to pay a commission for the sale. Twice the Fund Commissioners advertised to sell the bonds at not less than par and succeeded only in getting rid of $282,000 of the issue of $3,500,000 at par. At the opening of bids Francis Bros. & Co. of St. Louis submitted a proposition to dispose of the $3,218,000 on a commission of 4.20 per cent and the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. of St. Louis submitted a like proposition on the basis of 3.98 per cent.

Friendly Suit Brought.

The commissioners doubted their authority in the premises and a friendly suit was instituted to obtain a decision of the Supreme Court. Now that the court has affirmed the power of the commissioners, it is probable that bids will be asked to dispose of the bonds on commission. The two bids of the character referred to have been returned to the bidders.

Judge Graves' opinion goes into every feature of bond issue and the legislative enactments authorizing it. He leaves no room for doubt as to the validity of the bonds. He says the fund commissioners have exhausted ordinary remedies and being unable to dispose of but a fraction of the bonds, the legislative enactment gives them power to pay a reasonable commission.

On this point Judge Graves says: "The Legislature no doubt anticipated that occasion might arise for more heroic action than the mere effort of its own fund commissioners, and therefore indicated that the actual proceeds of the sale might be decreased by necessary expenses which might have to be incurred, and might be less than $3,500,000. "It has been held, and we think rightfully, that although there is an express power given to pay a commission for the sale of the bonds, yet that power does not authorize the allowance of that commission to a purchaser of the bonds.

Right to Pay Commission.

"We hold that the Board of Fund Commissioners have the right to contract to pay a reasonable commission for such service. Such board must exercise its best discretion in the matter. It is the duty of the board to get as favorable a contract as it can, all things considered. In such board is lodged a limited discretion which must be used in the interest of the State in dealings which it has in connection with the subject matter embraced in the several legislative acts. Such discretion must be used by the board in determining the commission to be paid."

Bettors Win Fortune as Actress Finally Weds Her $10,000,000 Fiance

GABRIELLE RAY

Gabriella Ray and Eric Loder Marry in London on Day After She Leaves Him and Crowd Waiting at Church.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, March 1.—Beautiful Gabrielle Ray performed the most daring and successful "press agent" feat staid old London has ever known when she left her $10,000,000 fiance, Eric Loder, waiting at the marriage altar yesterday.

She carried her undertaking to a triumphal climax today when she "made up" with Loder and married him, having thus achieved the desired publicity and captured the millionaire also.

The race for Miss Ray's favor between Loder, the Marquis of Anglesey and Lord Dalmeny was one of the big betting events of the last year, and the backers of Loder cleaned up a fortune on his success.

For 24 hours titled society had been gossiping over Gabrielle's probable reason for leaving young Mr. Loder waiting at the church. Her explanation that she was ill did not satisfy, because the bridal party waited for four hours, during which time no word came from the fair Gabrielle.

Miss Ray was married by the same priest who stood several hours in his vestments yesterday while a fashionable congregation gathered for gossip which will enliven society for many a day.

Miss Ray and Loder drove to Windsor in the same auto which had stood before the church yesterday waiting to whirl them away on their honeymoon journey. There were no guests and only a few witnesses.

According to friends of Miss Ray, she decided at the last minute that she wanted to be married quietly and not in the presence of a critical congregation of dazzling society folk.

Accordingly she remained away yesterday, and did not communicate with her prospective husband until last night, when arrangements for a quiet wedding today were made.

DIVORCE COURT NO PLACE FOR TRIVIAL ROWS, SAYS JUDGE

Judge McQuillin, Refusing Decree, Says Court Cannot Go Beyond the Law.

Motions of both attorneys for a new trial in the divorce suit of Archibald Kelly against Marie Kelly were overruled Friday by Judge McQuillin, on the ground that the case made did not fall within any ground prescribed by statute, although it appears the couple never will live together again.

"No court is justified under our system in going beyond the law because it may be thought desirable to relieve a difficult situation," said the Judge. "The law does not sanction divorce for light and transient causes. No court has power to change or extend the law. What appears to be judicial legislation is sometimes invoked for the purpose of ascertaining and giving effect to the legislative intent.

"It should never be used to supplant a clear, positive legal mandate with what may be conceived to be the demands of the convenience and comfort of the parties litigant. Such action is inconsistent with our whole theory of government, law and jurisprudence since it, to that extent, substitutes government of laws by a government of men."

Judge McQuillan, a few days ago, dismissed Kelly's petition and Mrs. Kelly's cross bill. In asking a new trial, the attorneys suggested that either of the litigants be granted a decree.

The Kellys were married July 1, 1911, and separated, according to his petition, Aug. 30. Mrs. Kelly says the separation took place Sept. 6. She lives with her mother at 3955 Ashland avenue. Kelly is a member of the Fire Department.

Kelly alleged his wife had a violent temper, squandered his money and finally refused to live with him. Denying his allegations, she said he told her before their marriage that he had $2200 in a bank and a monthly income of $150 from a grocery store, besides his salary as a fireman. When they got back from a wedding trip to Chicago, she alleged, he had only 65 cents and told her to borrow money from her mother.

ROBBED OF $100 IN TAXICAB AND THEN TOSSED TO STREET

Visitor From Dixon, Mo., Says 2 Young Men Followed Him From Woodland Club.

Luman Stevans, cigar dealer from Dixon, Mo., was lured into a taxicab early Friday and after being driven about for 15 minutes was choked and robbed. He grabbed the hat of one of the robbers as he was being thrown from the vehicle and turned it over to the police.

Stevans said he arrived in St. Louis at noon Thursday. He spent several hours at the Woodland Club, 9 North Sixth street, Thursday night, and when he left there at 2 a. m., he was followed, he says, by two young men who offered to take him to the Excelsior Hotel in a taxicab. He accepted the invitation and the men called a cab.

Stevans said they had driven about for at least 15 minutes when one of the men clutched his throat and the other searched his pockets. Then they tossed him into the street and drove away. He says he was robbed of his watch and $100.

Stevans met a patrolman at Jefferson and Washington avenues. The hat he had taken from one of the robbers was a brown felt, size 6⅞.

WIDOWER A MONTH KILLS HIS BABY AND SELF AFTER A CHASE

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 1.—James Juhas took his month-old baby, Mary Victoria, from Bellevue Hospital to his home yesterday, where, after a race with his brothers, he shot the child to death and sent a bullet through his own head.

Juhas' wife, whom he married a year ago, died in Bellevue when the child was born, and since then the young man has been in despair. Almost daily he had been calling at the hospital, demanding his child, but it was refused because his grief made him appear unbalanced. Yesterday he appeared in better spirits and the baby was given to him.

Daniel Juhas returned home last evening and found a letter from his brother, James, reading:

"When you find me again I will be dead. Please bury me in the same grave with Kate. Now that she is gone, I have nothing more to live for."

Enclosed in the envelope was a $100 bill and Juhas' life insurance papers, the value of which is $450.

Daniel started for his brother's home and soon came upon Eugene, another brother. The brothers, both running, were within a half block of the house when they saw James, the baby in his arms and apparently asleep, walk up the front steps.

"James! James!" both shouted.

James looked around, dashed into the house, slammed the door behind him and ran up the stairs. The man and baby were on the second floor when the two brothers entered. James' apartments were on the fourth floor, and outside the front door was a closet. As he reached the fourth floor he looked down at his breathless brothers and seemed as if he would speak. The baby was still asleep. The father ran into the closet and locked the door. As the two brothers fell against it they heard two shots. The door was forced. Juhas had held the baby tight between his knees. Both died instantly.

Juhas was 25, and in business as a butcher with his brothers. Most of his time recently was spent in St. Michael's Cemetery, in Astoria, by his wife's grave.

3 TIE IN BISCUIT CONTEST

Another Baking Necessary to Determine Gas Show Winner.

It took three expert judges more than three hours Thursday to determine the best biscuit bakers in St. Louis. There were 264 women who believed they deserved the honor, for that number had sent biscuits to the gas appliance show at the Coliseum. The judges, Mrs. Clara Minnis, Misses Madeline Converse and Emma Vassar, said they never had seen such a diversity of biscuit styles.

The three batches which finally were selected were baked by Mrs. Thomas E. Ferguson of 4041 Cook avenue, Mrs. W. P. Tate of 4734 Newcomb place and Mrs. William Heinricks of 716 Carpenter place. The three will bake a fresh batch Friday night to decide the supremacy. The winner will receive a gas range.

KINS DITCHED ROOSEVELT'S CAMPAIGN PLANS

Place in Rough Rider's Cabinet of Workers for Morgan's Former Business Partner Who Was Credited With Being Keeper of Open Purse.

DIXON AND REVELL WILL BE LEADERS

Medill McCormick Issues Statement Denying That He Wants to Run Campaign and Will Center Activities on Illinois.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 1.—George W. Perkins, formerly a partner of J. P. Morgan, has been thrown into the discard, where sleeps that other political "good thing," Col. George Harvey.

For months Perkins has been regarded as the open purse of the Roosevelt agitation. When the formal announcement of the Roosevelt campaign cabinet was made this morning, Perkins' name was conspicuous by its absence.

Frank Knox, the Michigan member of the Executive Committee, was asked what had become of Perkins. He replied:

"I do not know. Mr. Perkins will not, with my knowledge and consent, play any important part in the Roosevelt campaign."

"What about contributions for the work?"

"I do not think we shall lack money, but when the list of contributors is published, the Roosevelt forces will go before the public with clean hands."

Gov. Stubbs called on Col. Roosevelt today to talk over the campaign. The Governor again declared that President Taft's name would not be presented at the Chicago convention. He said he intended to take the stump for Roosevelt. Stubbs, Gov. Robert P. Bass of New Hampshire and Gov. Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming were announced today as principal speakers at a Roosevelt mass meeting to be held in Newark, N. J., tonight.

How the Lineup Will Be.

Here is the organization lineup of the Roosevelt forces as announced after a long consultation between Col. Roosevelt and leaders in many states. At the head of the national campaign upon all political questions:

Senator Joseph S. Dixon.

At the head of all executive matters:

Alexander H. Revell, a wealthy furniture manufacturer of Chicago.

At the head of the Administrative Committee that will in all probability control the finances of the campaign:

Truman M. Newberry, a Detroit millionaire and former Secretary of the Navy.

E. W. Sims, former United States District Attorney at Chicago, will be the executive secretary.

The other members of the Executive Committee to act with Senator Dixon are Frank Knox, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Michigan; William L. Ward of New York, Walter F. Brown, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Ohio; Cecil Lyon, National Committeeman of Texas, and William Flynn of Pennsylvania.

Cites Party's Long Power.

Senator Dixon's statement follows:

"For more than 50 years, the Republican party, responding to the demands of a majority of the voters of this country, has controlled the policies of the nation. This extraordinary lease of delegated power from the people has only followed the response of its leaders to the intelligent demands of political growth and progress. A political party can only retain power when its leadership can command a vote of confidence from the people themselves.

"Four years ago, by more than a million majority, the Republican party was again given a new lease of power. Next November we must again submit our claim for stewardship to the people.

"The lack of positive leadership during the past three years has turned a Republican majority of 60 in the House of Representatives into an adverse Democratic majority of 70, has changed a two-thirds vote in the Senate to the bare margin of control of that body, and temporarily has lost control of a dozen Republican states of the North and West.

"The lack of leadership and statesmanship has produced a condition of business bewilderment, which has halted the prosperity of the whole country. There is no cure for this industrial stagnation unless we substitute a policy of progressive and constructive legislation which shall meet modern conditions with modern laws.

Calls Situation Alarming.

"These alarming conditions challenge the gravest attention of every Republican who hopes for success in the coming presidential election.

"These are the things that have caused a nation-wide movement for the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as the Republican candidate for President, an overwhelming demand of the masses of the Republican voters for him to remain in the service of his party."

WIFE OF PAPER DEALER WHO WILL SUE FOR A DIVORCE

MRS. HENRY BROWN GRAHAM.

timent of the Republican voters, the national organization that has been created for the presentation of Col. Roosevelt's candidacy confidently believes that he will be nominated at Chicago as the standard bearer of the Republican party and overwhelmingly elected in November."

Taft Control in South Fought.

As indicated in dispatches from Boston several days ago, the Roosevelt managers are going after the control of the Southern delegates by Southern officeholders. It was officially announced last night that formal complaints have been filed with the Civil Service Commission against the pernicious activity of Federal office holders in two states where delegates have been elected for President Taft. These complaints, it is said, will be followed by legal action unless the commission acts speedily.

Medill McCormick said today he wished to deny absolutely a report from Washington that he believed he should run the campaign. McCormick, who has been in charge of the Washington headquarters, will now devote most of his energies to the Illinois campaign, and also will be a traveling delegate. He said the Illinois Republicans are pleased that Senator Lorimer has come out in support of President Taft.

A dispatch from Secretary Sims in charge of the Chicago headquarters at present, was received by the Roosevelt managers here this morning.

Both Sides Claim Illinois.

"Have seen ridiculous claims from administration leaders," it stated, "that Taft will get 40 delegates out of the 58 in Illinois. At the preferential primaries to be held in all districts, the vote will be almost solid for Roosevelt. In any case, Roosevelt will get 50 delegates. The action of Speaker Cannon's managers indicates that they have abandoned all hope of delegates from his district."

McCormick said that in making any claims the Roosevelt managers are required to claim five fewer delegates than they actually expect. Regarding Pennsylvania the Roosevelt managers claim more than half of the delegates, allowing for the extra five.

Bryan Praises Roosevelt's Speech at Columbus.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 1.—W. J. Bryan in the forthcoming issue of his Commoner will say in part:

"Ex-President Roosevelt's Columbus speech will stand out as the strongest he has yet delivered. The dominant note is 'Trust the people.' In taking this position he is on solid ground. While he advocates little in the way of reform that Democrats have not advocated for years, still it is gratifying to have his influence thrown into the balance in favor of the direct election of senators, the initiative and the referendum. These reforms are distinctly and emphatically Democratic. The proposition to submit to the people judicial decisions on constitutional questions is of Democratic origin.

"Mr. Roosevelt's plan for dealing with the trusts leads directly to Socialism. The Democratic anti-trust plan contemplates the restoration of competition. This is the only plan that appeals to individuals. But the country is to be congratulated upon the delivery of the speech. It helps to mold public opinion in favor of several good measures, and even he cannot lead the public to the dangerous doctrine that we can rely on regulation as a cure for trust evils."

Dan Hanna Declared to Be a Roosevelt Backer.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 1.—Walter Houser, La Follette's national campaign manager, said today that Col. Roosevelt's campaign in Ohio was being conducted by Dan Hanna, son of the late Mark Hanna, who is heavily interested in the United States Steel Corporation, and Walter Brown and Nat Wright, inachine politicans. He charged that George W. Perkins, former partner of J. P. Morgan, and Frank A. Munsey, who has held much steel stock, were among the Colonel's strong backers.

Houser said Gov. Hiram Johnson of California, calling at La Follette's headquarters to urge a general "flop" to Roosevelt, said Roosevelt would run "on any platform, however radical, the progressives would draw up."

The Cleveland Leader, Hanna's paper, is a strong supporter of Roosevelt. It announced its allegiance Monday and is making a spirited fight for him.

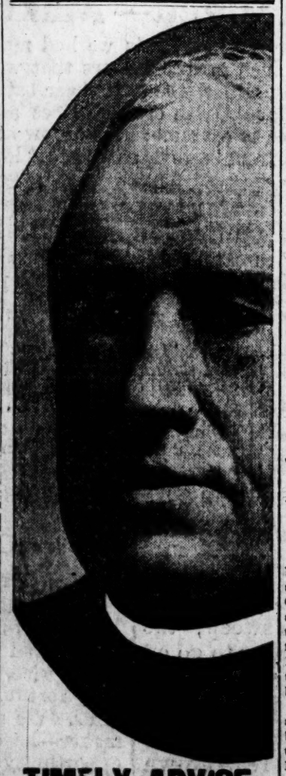

Roosevelt-Taft Missouri Split Up to Convention.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., March 1.—Both factions declaring they had nominated the only bona fide delegates to the national Republican convention, delegates to the Third Congressional District convention departed for their homes today.

One set of delegates instructed for Taft and another instructed for Roosevelt will seek seats at the national convention.

The Roosevelt delegates, the first from any part of the country to be instructed for him, are Frank B. Channell of Cameron and A. M. Hyde of Princeton. The Taft men are H. G. Orton of Mercer County and Henry L. Eads of Daviess County.

'OTHER WOMAN'S' NAME SECRET IN GRAHAM DIVORCE

Attorney Says No Decision Has Been Made as to Whether She Will Be Named.

MOTHER TO KEEP SON

Wife to File Papers Soon and Financial Settlement by Husband Will Be Made.

Mrs. Zulah Beatrice Graham, wife of Henry B. Graham, secretary of the Graham Paper Co., member of many clubs, Friday said to a Post-Dispatch reporter at her home, 5831 Cabanne avenue, that her plans were almost completed to bring a suit for divorce.

A petition has not been drawn, according to her attorney, Lon O. Hocker, but it will be prepared within a day or two. Hocker said it had not been decided whether the name of another woman would appear in the papers.

Mrs. Graham said she did not care to discuss the matter, except to say she had leased apartments near her present home and would remove there with her son, Henry Brown Graham III, 2 years old, and her mother, Mrs. Olivia J. Rooker.

"Now that the matter has become public, I'm surprised that it was not generally known to all our friends before this," she said.

Hocker said that his client had determined to sue only after doing everything in her power to get her husband to refrain from the conduct of which she complains.

Married Four Years Ago.

The Grahams were married in Kansas City four years ago. The bride was a member of a socially prominent family there. The bridegroom's wealth and social position in this city made the match appear a highly satisfactory one to society.

He admitted that the wife had obtained possession of some letters that her husband had thought she knew nothing about, but said these letters would not appear in this case. They related to a previous matter, he explained, and one that had been amicably settled.

Possession of Son.

The attorney admitted that tentative arrangements have been made in the case. These arrangements are said to guarantee to Mrs. Graham possession of her son and a financial settlement, to be agreed upon by the attorneys, will be made. Dorothy Graham, 12 years old, and Marjorie, 8, daughters of Graham by a former marriage, have been sent to a grandmother at Coronado Beach, Cal.

Although their friends have known there were difficulties in the Graham household, it was thought generally that they had been settled and that all was serene between husband and wife. This view was strengthened when they entertained at their home New Years. The announcment of the impending divorce suit was therefore a surprise.

Found Some Letters.

To their friends the husband and wife appeared to be very happy. They often went motoring together and spent their winters together in Florida. It was on one of their trips that the first break in the family happiness occurred, according to Mrs. Graham.

They were in Camp Estes, Colo., when the wife found some letters, she said. She became suspicious at this time, and, she declares, her suspicions were strengthened when she went to Kansas City to meet her husband and motor with him to this city.

After her return here she heard rumors of parties given by her husband, to which she had not been invited. She declares that once, while in Hocker's office, she got word her husband's auto was in front of a West End apartment. She drove out there in her own car, she continued, and found Graham's machine there.

Owns Much Real Estate.

Judge Daniel Taylor is attorney for the husband in the negotiations. He refused to discuss the matter, Friday, saying so much had already been said that the happiness of the pair had been wrecked.

Graham is the son of Henry Brown Graham, one of the founders of the Graham Paper Co. He is one of the principal shareholders in that company and is the owner of considerable real estate.

Efforts to reach Graham in his office, Friday, were unavailing. His attorney said he would make no statement about the case.

WOMAN ..... WINS $5000

Verdict for Mrs. Williamson in Suit Against Eckhoff.

Mrs. Annie Williamson, wife of Charles L. Williamson, 1942A Cass avenue, won a verdict for $5000 in her suit against Clemens Eckhoff for $150,000 damages, alleging slander. The woman testified that she was visiting at the home of a friend, Miss Jessie Burke, a tenant of Eckhoff's, and that, hearing a commotion in front, she went to the door to learn what it was.

Just then, she said, Eckhoff appeared and declared that she did not have a husband. Eckhoff denied the allegation. He is president of the Eckhoff Furniture Co.

BODY IS UNIDENTIFIED

Is That of Man About 64 Killed by Train.

The body of a man about 64 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighing 140 pounds, who was killed by a train near the Black Bridge in East St. Louis Thursday night, is awaiting identification.

The man, who is partly bald, had brown hair, gray eyes and a sandy mustache. His clothes were dark and of cheap quality. Employes of the Degen-Doussard morgue learned the man's name was Brennan and he was supposed to be from Litchfield. Efforts will be made to locate his relatives.

Clothing Truths Are Not Elusive—They Are Evident at the First "Try On" If You Know Clothing.

THIS MEN'S CLOTHING STORE

Asks But That You Look in, and the Clothing Itself Will Tell Its Own Story

There is a way of making clothing "look good" in the hand. If it were to go no further, there would be a cheaper way to produce good-looking clothing than the way our makers produce the clothing we sell.

But the first "try-on" shows the character to the practiced eye, and our Clothing, selected by "try-on" inspections, removes every doubt as to quality and character, whether it be in Clothing

—To Sell at $15 or at $40

The new Spring Suits and Overcoats for men and young men are beginning to come in fast—something new every day, and each new group demonstrates more thoroughly that our position this Spring will be found stronger than it was in the Fall, when it comes to clothing for the man particular about the clothes he wears.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good"—and this trade-wind has blown

More Men's and Young Men's Suits and Overcoats From $15, $18 and $20 Lines into That Lot

At $10 for Saturday

Suits and Overcoats that have no reasonble excuse for their being anything but $15, $18 and $20 garments—except that excuse which comes to every maker at the end of a season, with groups of twos and threes which dispatches prompt the release thereof through a quick-price change.

Here are Suits of English-looking mixtures, of cassimeres and worsteds, in almost any number of effects; many of which have proved very popular "numbers" of the season.

There are Overcoats including the Raglans, plain tailored and English effects, Belted-back Coats and Coats with convertible collars—of kerseys, cheviots and mixtures, in heavy and medium weights.

And in this $10 collection there are enough Suits and Overcoats of each size to make easy play for your preference.

LAWRENCE WAGES RAISED BY WOOLEN TRUST AND OTHERS

Advance Granted as Children, "Living Strike Exhibits," Go to Washington.

END OF STRIKE IN SIGHT

Other Mills Expected to Increase Pay—Vital Effect on Textile Industry.

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 1.—The American Woolen Co., the "Trust," today notified its agents in all of its 33 mills in New England and New York State to advance wages 5 per cent. The order affects about 30,000 operatives, and is regarded as an opening wedge toward settling the Lawrence strike.

The action of the American Woolen Co. is expected to have a far-reaching effect in the woolen industry. It is expected by mill men here that many other important mills will also decide to advance wages. There also is a strong feeling in Boston textile circles that the action of the American Woolen Co., Arlington Mills and Uswoco Mills in Lawrence in posting notices of a wage advance will contribute materially to a speedy ending of the strike in that city, which has been in progress 50 days.

LARGE LAWRENCE MILL RAISES PAY

Children Workers Leave Strike Scene to Appear Before Congressmen.

By Associated Press.

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 1.—The posting of notices today in the Arlington Cotton and Worsted Mills, which employs 5500 hands, announcing a wage increase of at least five per cent to take effect next Monday was regarded as an important step toward the speedy settlement of the great textile strike which involves nearly 20,000 persons.

The feeling was general in Lawrence that many of the other mills here would make similar concessions to the operatives. The Arlington mills are not connected with the American Woolen Co., the "trust."

The Executive Committee of the Industrial Workers of the World, which was in session an hour this afternoon, voted to recommend that the strikers refuse an advance in wages of 5 per cent. Mass meetings probably will be called to consider today's developments.

A scarcity of strikers doing picket duty was apparent in the hours preceding the time for beginning work. There appeared to be a slight increase in the number of people entering the various mills.

A party of children who have worked in the mills and who had been requested to appear before a congressional committee in Washington tomorrow, left the city at 7:11 a. m. today. The delegation included only 13 minors, four of whom were girls.

Among the children, all of whom have been employed in the mills, was Carmella Peeli, 15 years old, who, about a year ago, while at work, lost a part of her scalp when her hair caught in the machinery.

Naval Man's Body to Come From China.

The body of George D. W. Hartzel, whose death at Shanghai, China, resulted from an attack of influenza, will be brought to St. Louis for burial. Hartzel, who was 29 years old, had served four years in the navy and was attached to the cruiser Rainbow. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Hartzel, reside at Poag, near Edwardsville. He is survived by 10 brothers and sisters.

Woman Is 103 Years Old.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., March 1.—Mrs. Abigail Morrill, 103 years old, is celebrating her birthday here today. She recalls incidents of the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War and the Spanish-American War.

POOR WOMAN SEVERELY AFFLICTED

But Troubles Which Caused Her Almost Constant Distress Finally Disappeared Because She Depended on the Right Medicine.

"For years, I was a sufferer from headaches," writes Mrs. Lucy Fine, of this place, "and was never entirely relieved of them, until lately.

"Now I am feeling well, as a result of having taken Cardui, the woman's tonic.

"As soon as I began to take Cardui, I could see the severity of my affliction greatly lessened.

"Cardui also helped a stomach derangement which forced me to spit almost constantly.

"Since then I have used a bottle of Cardui occasionally, at longer or shorter intervals, and have always been benefited.

"That taught me to depend upon it and, for that reason, I will continue to use Cardui whenever it is necessary."—Johnson City, Tenn.

You, too, can depend upon Cardui. It will do the same for you, as it has done for other ladies.

It will help to make you well and strong, because its ingredients have been proven to have a very special tonic action, on the organs; in fact, no other combination of medicinal ingredients is of known superiority for this kind of trouble.

Trust Cardui. Give it a trial.

Let Cardui show you what it will do for you.

Your druggist sells Cardui.

SHE HAD CHAPPED LIPS

Chicago Woman Needed Something; It Was Resinol.

Chicago, Ill., is the home of a thrifty woman whose skepticism was the means of demonstrating to her that all skin preparations are not false. She wrote to Baltimore for a sample of Resinol. It came, she used, it conquered. Her letter is given herewith:

"I received and used your sample of Resinol Soap and found it so very satisfactory that I still continue to use it. It is very soothing to a sensitive skin and healing in cases of eruptions.

"For years I have used your Resinol Ointment and cannot speak too highly of it as a remedy for Burns, Chapped Lips or any skin eruptions.

"Mrs. E. V. Sackett,
"Chicago, Ill."

Why don't you try it? A sample will be mailed to you absolutely free. And not only for Burns and Chapped Lips is Resinol unequaled, but it stops itching instantly and quickly relieves eczema, ringworm, barber's itch, pimples, and other eruptive skin diseases. It is the very best dressing for boils, and equally good for felons, carbuncles, wounds and all skin abrasions.

Resinol Ointment can be used on raw or inflamed surfaces with safety and comfort. It cannot harm the skin of the youngest infant. Resinol Soap is a high-class health soap. It protects and preserves the skin and should be used in connection with the Ointment. The Resinol preparations are sold by all druggists. If free trial is desired, write for samples to Department 1, Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

Acting on numerous requests Supt. Ella Flagg Young made the recommendation to the school management committee and favorable action was taken on it last night.

SKELETON 17 FEET HIGH

NEW YORK, March 1.—The skeleton of the largest mammoth so far known to the scientific world has just been unearthed at Steinheim, Germany, near the birthplace of Schiller. It will go to the Wurtemburg Natural History Museum at Stuttgart.

The skeleton is more than seventeen feet high and the tusks more than eight feet long. It is thought to be about 4000 years old.

ELEVEN RAILWAYS IN ILLINOIS PUT ON A LIQUOR LID

State Law, About Which There Had Been Dispute, Enforced Suddenly on Trains.

THIRSTY HAVE TO GO DRY

Employes on Chicago-St. Louis Diners Obdurate When Appeals Are Made to Them.

Traveling through Illinois on passenger trains Friday is like crossing a desert so far as getting an intoxicating drink is concerned.

All railroads operating between St. Louis and Chicago, and practically all other parts of the State, issued an order Thursday that after midnight no drinks were to be sold on any passenger or buffet car operated on their lines.

The Legislature of Illinois passed a law, effective July 1, 1911, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors on trains. Some doubt existed as to whether the law applied to buffet, dining and club cars. The railroads came to the conclusion recently that the law was applicable to all parts of trains, and decided to enforce it to the letter.

Buffet trains, which formerly carried ample stocks of beer and other liquors, carried not a drop between St. Louis and Chicago after midnight. Thirsty passengers who had forgotten that the law had become effective were surprised when they ordered their jorums.

One of the results of the law was to send the thirsty passengers in haste to saloons near Union Station Friday morning. There was a big rush on the part of the travelers whose throats had been parched since midnight.

A St. Louis official told a Post-Dispatch reporter there was no escape from the law. The only way a passenger between St. Louis and Chicago could get a drink, he said, was to provide himself with a flask before he started, or take chances of getting a nip at stops in wet towns.

Officials of every railroad operating between St. Louis and Chicago gave their employes ironclad orders to obey the law after midnight. No sort of persuasion could induce the porters on the trains to "find" one of the small bottles of whisky and a glass.

The roads issuing the order forbidding the sale of liquors on trains were the Monon, the Wabash, Rock Island, Illinois Central, Chicago & Alton, Chicago Great Western, Chicaga & Eastern Illinois, Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

MAN SENT TO PRISON FOR DOING NOTHING

Judge in Sentencing Lazy Father Says He Was Born Tired, Never Got Rested.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Chicago's laziest man will begin serving a six-months' sentence in the workhouse today. He is Gustav Schillinger, the father of several children.

"You are the most monumental example of a lazy man that it has ever been my privilege to meet," said Judge Goodnow in sentencing him. "You are one of those fellows who were born tired and never got rested."

It is said of Schillinger that he has done no work in nine years except that performed while serving previous sentences in the Bridewell. He lived in a house provided by his mother, for which he paid no rent. His wife and children worked, providing him with clothing, food and spending money. He told the Court that he did not repair the weather boarding on the house because when the weather was cold he could not do it and when it was warm it was not necessary.

"I haven't done anything, Judge," said Schillinger when sentence was imposed.

"That is just the trouble," commented the Court.

OSAGE LAND LEASED TO OIL PROMOTORS

Tribesmen Require That 135 Wells Shall Be Drilled at Once in New Field.

PAWHUSKA, Ok., March 1.—This city shortly will become the center of the greatest oil and gas activity in Oklahoma. The Osage Indian tribe, through its Tribal Council, has adopted a resolution sanctioning the leasing of all unleased portions of the Osage lands, amounting to hundreds of thousands of acres, for oil and gas purposes, to the Uncle Sam Oil Co., Henry J. O'Connell, W. M. Dial and John L. Bird.

The tract will be divided into blocks of nine sections each. The lease requires the sinking at once of at least one well near the center of each block, the initial number of wells not to be fewer than 135. Before drilling the lessee must get consent of the person to whom the land has been allotted and pay to the tribe a one-eighth royalty on a basis of not less than 60 cents a barrel for oil. The building of a refinery with a capacity of 10,000 barrels is planned. A delegation of tribal officers has gone to Washington to lay the matter before the Secretary of the Interior Department for his approval.

Some of the most productive oil wells in Oklahoma are near the eastern edge of the Osage country, but there has been practically no development in the interior of the reservation. It is believed that a rich new field will be opened.

POLICE SET BLACK HAND TRAP AND CATCH TWO MEN

Letter to Italian Directed Him to Put $2000 at a Certain Place.

DECOY PACKAGE IS USED

Men Arrested While Lighting Matches Though They Did Not Take Bundle.

Contrato Collogeo, 19 years old, of 818 North Eighth street and Philip Viviano, 22, of 1123 North Seventh street, are held at the Carr street station as Black Hand suspects.

They were arrested at the Carr street ferry landing Thursday night, after Salvatore Volante of 1903 North Fourth street had placed a decoy package in response to letters demanding $2000.

Sergt. Andraveno of the Carr street district says Collogeo closely resembles a picture found in Salvatore Leoni's trunk after Leoni's headless body was found in an ash pit.

Received Four Letters.

The fourth and last letter received by Volante was delivered Thursday. It read:

"Dear Sir—Leave your house at 7:45. Go down to the Carr street ferry. When you see no one around the place leave $2000 at the foot of the ferry.

"Do this if you value your life. Do it tonight. This is the fourth letter we have written. We won't write any more. Good-by."

The letter, written in Italian, was translated by Sergt. Andraveno.

Volante confided in Detective Sergeant Campbell, who made up a dummy package with $1 bills at the top and bottom. With five special officers, Campbell and Andraveno surrounded the ferry landing.

Volante put the dummy package near the landing at 8 p. m. Thursday.

An hour later the watching policemen saw two men go onto the landing. Apparently they were hunting for something. They lit many matches.

The police hoped they would see the men pick up the dummy package. After waiting half an hour they arrested the men.

Both Deny Charge.

At the Carr Street Station the men spoke only Italian. As interpreted by Sergt. Andraveno, they denied they were searching for the package and that they had written letters to Volante.

Asked what they were doing at the landing, they said they were looking for work.

WHOLE CROP TO FRANCE

Nearly All Maryland's Tobacco Is Contracted For.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The French nation will smoke virtually the entire crop of Maryland this year, according to the report of two agents of the French government, who have been here for several weeks contracting with growers and dealers.

French tobacco experts, after experimenting with all tobaccos grown in the United States, found that French smokers prefered that grown in Maryland, and for several years they have purchased about half the crop of that State.

MORGAN HAS MORE RELICS

Will Bring Manuscripts Costing $400,000 From Egypt.

NEW YORK, March 1.—J. P. Morgan will bring back from Eypt a collection of Coptic manuscripts unequaled in any museum in the world. The manuscripts were found in the ruins of a monastery at Fayoum, and Morgan paid $400,000 for them.

They are described as being in an excellent state of preservation, despite the fact that they date back to the ninth and tenth centuries. They are catalogued as containing many books of the Bible, lives of the Canobites and the acts of the Martyrs.

Always Suspect Your Stomach

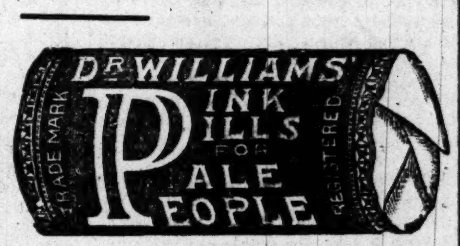

If your digestion is out of order you may have symptoms that will mislead you into thinking you have heart disease, kidney trouble, some nervous or blood disorder. Better look to the stomach first. It is here that the blood gets its nourishment. If the digestion is disordered, the blood will be out of order. Poor digestion fills the blood with poisons. This impure blood poisons every tissue of the body. The dyspeptic awakes in the morning with a dull, heavy head and is irritable, melancholy, "blue," and dizzy because the brain, nerves and muscles have been poisoned from the stomach.

Mrs. John Knuth, of R. F. D. No. 2, St. Joseph, Mo., makes the following statement: "I was an invalid with stomach trouble for seven years and spent hundreds of dollars with physicians without receiving any benefit. For two years I lived on milk alone. My stomach would not retain any solid food. I had gas on the stomach and vomited a great deal. I was troubled with dizzy spells and thought I would never live through them. My hands and feet were ice cold and seemed to have no circulation at all. My heart fluttered and I would have smothering sensations. My weight was greatly reduced. I was frequently confined to bed for days and at one time was in the hospital for seven weeks and my friends did not expect I would get well. After I gave up the doctors I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A few boxes helped me so much that I could retain a little food on my stomach. Each day I grew stronger and took the pills until completely cured. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the cause of my being a healthy woman today and I gladly recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People strengthen the stomach, purify the blood and tone up the nerves. They give a healthy appetite, a good digestion and cheerfulness. Their tonic action is general throughout the body. They banish all the disagreeable symptoms by removing their cause. It isn't necessary to experiment. Start today to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the remedy that has cured others.

A copy of our diet book, containing much useful information, will be sent free upon request to any address.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by the microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to someone else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody's else's hat. Many a hat-band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in St. Louis only at our store—The Rexall Store—Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., s. e. cor. 6th st. and Washington av.

$15,000,000 LOSS IN PEKIN BY FIRE MUTINEERS START

Troops Rush Through Streets Shooting and Looting as Flames Light Night Sky.

TEN LOOTERS EXECUTED

Loss of Life Placed at Fewer Than 100, Americans Take Refuge at Legation.

By Associated Press.

PEKIN, March 1 (8 p. m.)—At 7:30 this evening desultory shooting again began in the city.

It is believed that Yuan-Shi-Kai has lost some of his control. None of the troops except the Manchus are to be depended on and they evidently care only to defend the imperial and forbidden cities.

Throughout the day looting of stores and residences has been going on in various parts of the city, and there have been several skirmishes between the loyal troops and the mutineers in the outskirts. The majority of the mutineers, however, had left the Central districts before morning.

Ten looters captured in the act of carrying of property were executed on the spot by loyal soldiers, several regiments of whom are patrolling the streets.

The incendiary fires which were started last night have all been extinguished or have died out. The loss is estimated approximately at $15,000,000.

Poor Rake Ashes of Fire.

The smoldering fires in many districts of the city this evening are being raked over by throngs of the poor. No fresh fires have occurred today, but there has been some further looting in remote quarters of the city.

Some detachments of the old style turbaned troops have been brought to the city today, and it is reliably reported that Yuan Shi Kai is bringing back the Manchu troops who were ousted recently from the city because it was believed they were a dangerous element. Yuan Shi Kai, it is alleged, has been endeavoring to retain the support of the soldiers in Pekin by permitting his bodyguard to do as they pleased, but only a small body of men now remain loyal to him.

Nanking Delegates Escape.

The delegates from Nanking escaped yesterday from the burning residence where they were guests of the city. They are at a hotel in the legation quarter.

The streets are thronged, but all shops are closed. Long lines of carts continue to bring valuables into the legation quarter. Space being limited in the legation quarter, only a few of the better class Chinese are permitted to take refuge there. Many Christians are being harbored in the mission compounds.

The trains departing for Tien Tsin are crowded with fugitives. The number of killed during last night's disturbances probably is under 100. The object of the rioters evidently was loot, and not slaughter.

The outbreak was a most complete surprise, both to the Government and to the foreign legations, and there is some apprehension of disorders tonight.

The mutiny of Yuan Shi Kai's soldiers began in Pekin at 8 o'clock last night. Many natives have been killed or wounded, but so far as known all foreigners are safe, except one Japanese, who was wounded. The legation quarter is crowded. The missionaries are in their compounds.

When the outbreak occurred it was estimated that 2000 soldiers took part but the mutineers have been augmented by large numbers of the police, coolies and loafers. The legations know no reason for the outbreak. The idea is expressed that Yuan Shi Kai's soldiers began the trouble when they learned that he intended to leave the capital for Nanking. The soldiers are looting from house to house, not even sparing foreign residences within a block of the legation quarter.

Fires were started in various sections and territory of more than a mile in area has been burned. This stretches from the Forbidden City to the building of the Chinese foreign board, where Yuan Shi Kai resides. The quarters occupied by the Nanking delegates who came to notify Premier Yuan of his election as President have been enveloped in flames.

Much reckless shooting has occurred and one shell, which fell into the compound of the American legation, tore through the tent of one of the soldiers of the recently arrived reinforcements, but did not explode.

Straights Are Refugees.

Among the refugees at the American Legation are Williard D. Straight, ex-American Consul-General at Mukden, and now the representative of a New York financial syndicate, and his wife, who was Miss Dorothy P. Whitney, daughter of the late William C. Whitney, and Daniel A. de Menocal,, representative of the International Banking Corporation at Peking, and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Straight saved their records and valuables, but deserted a richly furnished house, which was given over to the looters. The British Legation is sending detachments throughout the city to protect British missions. American commandant, Maj. Russell, says the American missions are able to defend themselves.

The flames last night illuminated the golden tiled roofs of the palaces and threw a glare upon the thousands crowding the streets and struggling for loot. As yet fires have not broken out within the Forbidden City, indicating that the Manchu troops are guarding the Empress Dowager and the Emperor faithfully.

Shop Keepers Shot.

The American Minister, Calhoun, and Maj. Russell consulted with the American missions by telephone. All expressed their preference not to leave their own compounds. Two or three American families have not been heard from, but it is presumed no harm has come to them, as no foreigners have been molested.

That the shooting is getting nearer to the legation quarter is evidenced by the fact that a bullet struck the American legation wall within a few feet of Secretary Edward T. Williams and several American women. A correspondent has been cut off from the quarter.

Shopkeepers who failed promptly to surrender their valuables were shot or bayonetted. Hundreds of eunuchs could been seen in the moonlight on the yellow roofs of the forbidden city watching the fires.

TRAIN AND WIRE SERVICE INJURED

TIEN TSIN, March 1.—The Chinese troops at Feng Tai, a village 22 miles out from Pekin, on the Pekin-Tien Tsin Railroad, mutinied this morning. There was much heavy firing in the native quarter.

The foreign community, composed entirely of railway employes and their families, retired to the British military post nearby, where 150 soldiers of the Somerset Infantry are stationed to guard the railway line.

Dispatches from Pekin declare that the situation there today is very serious, but no reinforcements of foreign troops for the legation guard are required at present. It appears evident that mutinous Chinese soldiers were causing trouble along the line of the railroad between the capital and this city. The morning train, which left Pekin at 8:30 o'clock, had reached Feng Tai (22 miles) at 11:20 o'clock, and an English officer with a detachment of Somerset Infantry was sent in a light locomotive to ascertain the whereabouts of the train, and, if necessary, escort it on its way.

Another Shipment of Those Wonderful Dollar Waists Has Arrived, and Will Be Placed on Sale Saturday

The New Coatee Blouse at $1

A novel feature of this new Coatee Blouse is the peplum which is shown in various attractive designs. In the material and general quality it surpasses anything in value-giving in such an exclusive style. This identical style is being featured elsewhere, under another name, at a much higher price, and it gives us much pleasure to be able to present this exclusive novelty in our great Waist sale for Saturday, at a price marvelously low considering the merchandise involved.

Sonnenfeld's
L. ACKERMAN. Manager
612 WASHINGTON AVENUE

There are scores of other models without the peplum, among this array of $1.00 waists—all chic styles, effectively trimmed and perfectly made. A few of the models illustrated are—

Coatee Blouse—of fine white tucked batiste and torchon lace insertion, trimmed with embroidery.

Coatee Blouse—very smart—of allover eyelet embroidery, effectively trimmed with Cluny lace; high or low neck.

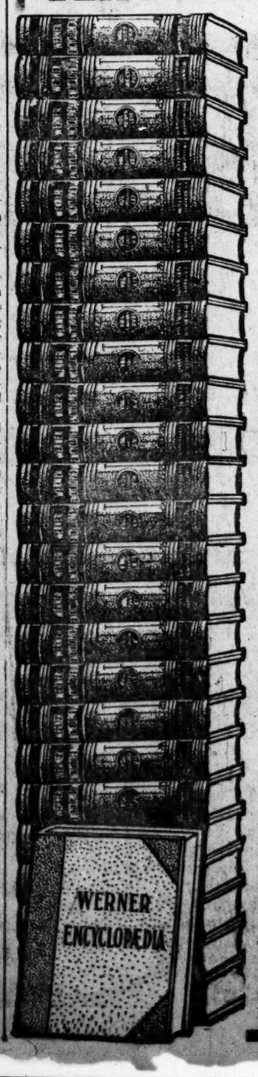

Dainty Blouse—allover eyelet embroidery—side effect; trimmed with tucking and Cluny lace.

Smart Blouse—white French Voile—dainty low neck model, trimmed with Japanese embroidery and Cluny lace.

Filet Trimmed Blouse—white batiste, effectively trimmed with the new filet laces.

Coatee Blouse—of fine white batiste—can be worn inside or outside skirt—effectively trimmed with combination of laces and embroidery—many other models, too numerous to describe.

Honest Advice to Consumptives

Somehow there exists a vast amount of skepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we assert.

If ourselves afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alterative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for asking all Consumptives to take it is that we have the reports of many cures, one of which follows:

1619 Susquehanna Av., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal; however, I remained, and in February of 1902 I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. I was again advised to go to another part of the country. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I learned of Eckman's Alterative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well' or 'cured.' Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have resorted to no other medicine to effect a cure.

"I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alterative I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done."

(Signed.) HOWARD L. KLOTZ.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Raboteau Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Judge & Dolph Drug Co. and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

TOO MANY LAWYERS A BUSINESS CURSE, SIMMONS AVERS

St. Louisan in Address Also Advocates an Intelligent Tariff Revision.

CHICAGO, March 1.—"The regulation of industrial combinations," was the theme scheduled for discussion by many speakers at the sessions of the third conference of the Western Economic Society which began here today.

George W. Simmons of St. Louis, the first speaker, declared that "one of the causes of uncertainty in business and timidity of capital is the constant tinkering of the tariff."

He advocated a demand from all business organizations for a plank in national political platforms promising intelligent and prompt revision of the tariff, a revision "only based on facts, as shown by impartial and intelligent skillful investogators and a promise to stop all tariff tinkering."

"In other words," he said, "that we shall proceed with our tariff revision based on knowledge and not ignorance, and on facts rather than the political whims of campaign politics."

"If I were to attempt to define the Sherman law briefly," said Simmons, "I would say that it was strictly a lawyer's law—conceived by lawyers, framed by lawyers and enacted by lawyers, so that the common business man could not possibly know how to conduct his business without employing a lawyer to interpret the law for him.

"If there is any one thing that is a curse to the business of the country today, it is that we have too many lawyers. In the last session of Congress there were 212 lawyers, and less than 50 business men. We have a big business organization called the United States of America; why not have for it a business administration?"

"The Serman act," he said, "must be modified into a definite plain and comprehensive law, suitable to modern conditions which will encourage the expansion of legitimate enterprise, and will be enforced to the letter from the day of its passage."

LATE ST. LOUISAN'S RARE BOOKS SELL AT FANCY PRICES

Auction of Capt. Hinckley's First Editions, Etc., in New York Is a Success.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The sale of the books of the late Capt. John Franklin Hinckley of St. Louis at Anderson's, was, in the opinion of experts, successful in the way of high prices realized.

The highest prices were paid for sets for authors in de luxe, autographed and with the leaf of "Advertisement" in a copy of the first edition of the poems of John Keats, virtually in perfect condition., paid $515. A complete set of the Joseph Jefferson autograph editions of the works of Washington Irving were sold to G. Weis for $510. George D. Smith gave $465 for a copy of the first issue of the first edition of the "Vicar of Wakefield," in the original condition and with the leaf of "Advertiseemnt" in duplicate.

G. Weis, the dealer, who has a penchant for sets of editions de luxe, got for $365 the works of Eugene Field, in 12 volumes, on Japan paper, an edition limited to 100 copies. Thirty-seven volumes of the novel of Charles Leres, edited by his daughter and known as "the author's edition," went to Weis for $243.

The copy of the autograph centenary edition of the complete works of Ralph Waldo Emerson sold to J. M. Douglas for $215. Volume 1 of this set contains an autograph letter signed by Emerson, in which he offers to lecture for the "munificent sufm of $25."

Columbia University paid $201 for the first complete edition of the works of Moliere printed in Paris in 1674-75. A copy of the original edition of John Smith's "An Historical Account of the Expedition Against the Ohio Indians," etc., was sold to G. Weis for $270.

Hinckley was a consulting engineer and resided at 5819 Cates avenue with his sister, Mrs. Fannie Watson. He died Feb. 19, 1911, leaving an estate of $353,802.71, which included 2800 rare and expensive books occupying 115 sections of book cases.

Hinckley is said to have spent between $75,000 and $80,000 for books, his penchant being for first editions, autograph copies and works on de luxe paper in art bindings. His estate was left to his sister, her daughter, Miss Martha Watson, and two nephews—Clinton Fish of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Charles A. Fisk Jr. of Amarillo, Tex.

Lafayette's Treasures and Letters Are Auctioned for $7740.

NEW YORK, March 1.—At the auction sale yesterday of souvenirs and relics of the collection formed by the Marquis Lafayette and inherited by the present Marquis Dumittier Lafayette, 85 objects and letters went for $7740.

J. Pierpont Morgan bought all the autograph letters in the collection. There were 61 letters. Miss Belle Acosta Green, Morgan's librarian, acted for him. The list included letters of Lafayette, Washington, John Quincy Adams and Henry Clay. An autograph letter from Lafayette to George Washington, dated Oct. 14, 1777, and which was returned to Lafayette by the family of Washington after his death, brought the highest price for a single epistle, $240.

FOREIGNERS APPEAL AGAINST POLL TAX

Italian Consul at Denver Acts in Behalf of Countrymen in Oklahoma.

HENRYETTA, Ok., March 1.—Several times recently the Italian Consul in Denver has been appealed to by representatives of his countrymen in the coal mining region near here to prohibit the collection by State officials of poll tax from resident Italians.

Recently serious trouble was narrowly averted when the Sheriff, under instructions from the County Attorney, made an effort to enforce collection. The Consul then appealed to Gov. Cruce to avert trouble at Henryetta. The question was referred to the Attorney-General and pending his opinion efforts to collect the tax have ceased.

The Italians against whom the tax has been assessed assert that they have only expressed a determination to become citizens of the United States and that they have not taken the oath as citizens.

FIVE RIDE IN AEROPLANE

LONDON, March 1.—S. F. Cody, the army aviator, has fulfilled his long standing intention of carrying four passengers in addition to himself in his rebuilt biplane, which is fitted with a 100 horse-power motor.

No great height was attempted, the average altitude being 100 feet. The flight covered seven miles in the Farmborough district.

Kate—Fire that fellow and marry me. I'll get the diamond ring of Lottie on credit.

Injured Preacher Off to Florida.

YAZOO CITY, Miss., March 1.—The Rev. T. B. Clifford, who was injured when a passenger coach was tipped over three weeks ago, is recovering so slowly that he will be sent to Florida to recuperate.

Attractive horse and vehicle bargains are being advertised in the Post-Dispatch want columns. During 1911 the Post-Dispatch printed 5722 more of these wants than any other St. Louis newspaper.

Aviator Returns, Has Smallpox.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Henry Hayden Sands, an amateur aviator, graduate of Yale class of 1900, and son of the late Dr. Henry Berton Sands, arrived here today from the Mediterranean on the White Star liner Cedric, suffering from smallpox.

St. Louisan Speaks in Peoria.

PEORIA, Ill., March 1.—The thirty-ninth annual convention of the Illinois Young Men's Christian Association opened here with 500 delegates in attendance. The Rev. William J. Williamson of the Third Baptist Church of St. Louis was the principal speaker.

Railroad Construction Resumed.

BUTLER, Ok., March 1.—Construction work has been resumed on the line running from here through Cheyenne and to Canadian, Tex., about 100 miles. The route follows the Canadian River and is an extension of the Clinton & Oklahoma Western Railroad.

Bankers' Bonds Reduced.

MAGNOLIA, Miss., March 1.—Judge Miller has reduced the bonds of B. F. Atkinson and Woodson Atkinson from $35,000 to $25,000. The bond of James F. Atkinson remains at $10,000. They are accused of accepting deposits for the People's Bank of Summit, Miss., as they knew it to be insolvent.

World's Best Medicine

No Home Should Be Without This Wonderful Youth and Health Preserving Stimulant As a Safe-Guard Against Sickness and All Depressing and Exhausting Conditions.

After a man or woman reaches middle age the natural tendency is to deteriorate. As old age creeps on, the height, weight and bodily organs decline. The liver, kidneys and bladder are among the first to suffer unless they are kept active and vigorous. O'NEIL'S PURE MALT WHISKEY does this. This wonderful, health-preserving stimulant enriches the blood, tones and upbuilds the system, promotes vigorous appetite, cheers the heart, keeps you young and prolongs your capacities for real living and is invaluable for overworked men, nervous, "run down" women and delicate, undeveloped children.

Its regular daily use is highly recommended in cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles.

If more people knew about O'NEIL'S PURE MALT WHISKEY, there would be less drunkenness and a great many more hale, hearty and young appearing "old people in the world."

Catarrh Germs Easily Killed and Vile Disease Ended

Just Breathe Hyomei; the Soothing, Healing Air of the Eucalyptus Forests of Australia

If it Doesn't Give Satisfaction for Catarrh, Coughs, Colds, Croup or Catarrhal Deafness, your Money Back.

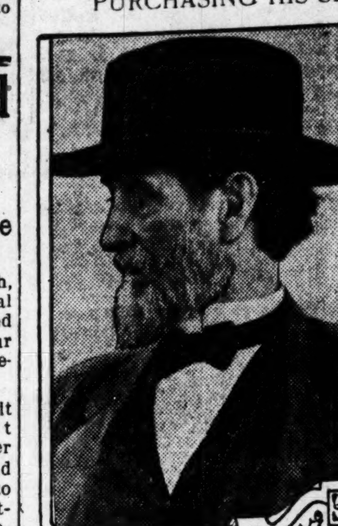

Delays are dangerous. If you want to get rid of catarrh you must kill the germs that cause catarrh. Stomach dosing, ointment, sprays and douches have all failed. HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is breathed directly over the inflamed, sore, germ-infested membrane, not only destroying the microbes, but healing and soothing the sore catarrhal spots.

Breathe HYOMEI for catarrh, coughs, colds, croup and catarrhal deafness and if you are not satisfied with the benefit obtained your money will be refunded.

Breathe HYOMEI; it is made of purest Eucalyptus and other healing antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe. Complete outfit including hard rubber pocket inhaler and bottle of HYOMEI $1.00. After you once own an inhaler you can buy a bottle of HYOMEI at pharmacists everywhere for only 50 cents.—ADV.

BRISTOW URGES THE U. S. SENATE TO OUST STEPHENSON

Kansan Insists He Was Guilty of Corrupt Practices at Wisconsin Primaries.

HE CRITICISES HEYBURN

Also Declares That Unless Seat Is Vacated Senate Will Lose People's Respect.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Insisting that any act of corruption that contributes to nomination in a senatorial primary is just as culpable as if it occurs in election by a legislature, Senator Bristow of Kansas today urged the Senate to reject the majority report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections exonerating Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin of the charge that corrupt practices were employed in securing his election.

"I believe," said Senator Bristow, "the evidence shows that corrupt methods and practices were used; that Stephenson and his managers not only corruptly used money to secure his election, but also flagrantly violated the laws of the State of Wisconsin against corrupt practices in elections, and that by mere technicalities they seek to avoid the responsibility for their conduct.

Question to Decide.

"Any man who will openly violate the statutes of his State that have been passed to protect the honesty of its elections is not worthy of a seat in this body, yet the primary question for the Senate to decide is not were the statutes of Wisconsin violated, but, did corruption in the election of Mr. Stephenson actually occur.

"Mr. Heyburn, in his opinion in the report, takes the amazing position that corruption in the primary election cannot be considered as having any bearing on the legislative election; that the primary practically has no more connection with the action of the legislator than a 'straw vote' would have.

"The methods and practices which they used in the primary Mr. Heyburn himself condemned in the following language:

" 'The amount of money expended in the primary campaign was so extravagant and the expenditures were made with such reckless disregard of the propriety as to justify the sharpest criticism. Such expenditures were in violation of the fundamental principles underlying our system of government, which contemplated the selection of candidates by the electors and not the selection of the electors by the candidate.'

"Yet, by an ingenious argument," continued the Senator, "Mr. Heyburn attempts to exempt Mr. Stephenson from the results of corrupt practices in the primary, the boldness of which is shocking to the patriotic sense of every honest American citizen.

Nomination Was Necessary.

"The majority of the candidates for the Legislature publicly declared they would vote in the Legislature for the man for United States Senator who secured the party nomination in the primary; so it was necessary for Mr. Stephenson to have that nomination in order to secure the election, and the corrupt or unlawful expenditure of money in securing votes in the primary was just as heinous as would have been its expenditure to get votes in the legislative election."

Senator Bristow then quoted Senator Stephenson's testimony admitting that he had expended $107,793 and made a detailed statement in regard to the organization of the Stephenson campaign committee. Quoting from the testimony, he said that Mr. Stephenson's managers paid money to different candidates of the Legislature, three of whom were elected, and that if the votes of those members had not been cast for Stephenson he would not have been elected and that Stephenson hired a large number of men to go about the State and disburse money in counties, townships and wards to different individuals to induce them to work for Stephenson at the election. Senator Bristow declared that not only was this done with Stephenson's knowledge, but that he actually participated in the distribution of these funds.

Seat a Toy for Rich.

"If such campaigns as that which resulted in the election of Mr. Stephenson are to meet the approval of this body," concluded the speaker, "then it will lose the respect of the American people. The Senate cannot have the confidence of the people if men immensely rich, with little qualification for the great office of Senator of the United States, but who desire the position as a child wants a toy, are to be permitted to employ political highwaymen as managers and organizers such as the agents of Stephenson were, and then turn over to them vasts sums of money to be used in purchasing the support of men wherever they can be found who will yield to such inducement.

"If this Government is to live, corruption in high places must be made as heinous as treason, for it is in the end more dangerous to the nation's welfare."

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The case against Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin has now reached a stage where bitterness begins to crop out. It is also become evident that his seat is in grave danger. Unless an early vote be had, the chances are that he will be excluded. For that reason Senator Heyburn is exerting pressure to have a date in the near future fixed for the final vote. The opponents of Senator Stephenson desire delay until their side of the controversy can be fully presented.

"A sense of humanity is involved in this case," said Senator Heyburn, when requesting that March 12, at 4 o'clock p. m., be agreed upon as the voting date.

LIST OF QUESTIONS OUT

Washington Department Will Try to Arrange to Equalize the Work.

From March 4 to March 9, inclusive, the letter carrier will likely have nothing to say to you when he delivers your mail. He may not even respond to your "good morning." If he did so, he might forget how many steps he had taken that day, which is just exactly what he must not do.

Uncle Sam, in an effort to systematize the work of collecting and delivering mail, is gathering information relative to his postoffice business in all the cities of the United States. For one thing, he wants to know how many steps each carrier takes in a day, and that is why the postman will seem morose next week. He will be counting steps. The idea is to so arrange things that each carrier, in all the cities, will do approximately the same amount of work.

A. J. Michener, superintendent of city delivery in St. Louis, has been asked by Postmaster-General Hitchcock to give him data on the total number of carriers here, the total number employed for collection exclusively, the number of mounted carriers, the number of square miles and the population in the city delivery limits, the average number of persons served by each carrier, the number of places of possible delivery per carrier, the number of street letter boxes and mail chutes, the number of residences and business places without mail receptacles, and many other things. This is the second year such information has been gathered, Michener said.

Marry me, Mary—I will buy the diamond ring on credit of Loftis, 308 N. Sixth street.

What's in a Name?

In the case of the Melotone Piano "The name tells." We gave the Melotone it's name because it has a mellow tone. The name "Melotone" is actually a guarantee of tone value. Other pianos are guaranteed only for durability, but the name of this piano invites criticism of its tone. As long as you own a Melotone its tone quality must maintain the high standard continually suggested by the name "Melotone."

We cheerfully accept the responsibility for this delightful Piano. The name Field-Lippman appears under the name Melotone—conclusive evidence of the personal confidence we have in the lasting quality of its mellow tone.

The Colonial, Dutch and Art style cases are of the highest type of refined cabinet work. Rich mahogany, oak and walnut veneers, hand polished, give a luxurious finish quite in keeping with the rich, mellow tone.

The price is surprising! $225 and $250—$300 would be a modest price for the Melotone. Buying for nine stores and for cash enables us to do it. You can buy a Melotone for 25c a day—a little lower if necessary—any terms within reason.

We want you to come in and see it—hear it played—play it yourself.

Wake Up With a "Dark Brown Taste?"

Get Rid of It! Run for OLIVE TABLETS

There isn't the slightest need to wake up any morning with a "brown mouth." Ugh! No need to describe it.

Dr. Edwards has made "brown mouth" a thing of the past in thousands of homes with his little Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver and bowels, never has "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a pimply face, constipation or any other form of bowel or liver disorder.

Take one just the moment you suspect you are constipated or that your liver is out of order.

Thousands take one at bedtime every night just to keep the bowels regular, the liver in order, the mouth clean and the breath pure and sweet.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent 17 years in practice and in laboratory experiments before he perfected Olive Tablets.

Why don't you try them instead of the severe kind of laxatives that gripe and only affect temporary relief?

Club Is Operating.

n the suit was filed in September, temporary restraining order was ed from Judge Reynolds prohibit- olice interference. Pending decision e case by Judge Shields the club been operating under this restrain- rder.

his argument before Judge Shields ebruary, 1908, it was contended by sel for the police that the plaintiff operating a lid club as an evasion the dramshop law. He asked that restraining order granted by Judge ynolds be dissolved.

Shortly after Judge Shields took the se under advisement, Feb. 13, 1908, e was transferred from the civil branch the Circuit bench to the criminal, here he remained 18 months. Press of usiness in the Criminal Court, he said riday, prevented his disposing of the egro club case. When he returned to he civil division the work there, he aid, kept accumulating, and he, in a easure, overlooked the club case.

"I do not hesitate to say I should have ecided that case long ago," Judge hields said. "Usually I try to dispose f my business within reasonable time, ut this is one of those matters that metimes get pushed behind in the rush new work."

Police Not Hampered.

ccording to Judge Shields, the tem- ary order issued by Judge Reynolds s not prohibit the police from inter- ng with the club if it appears any is being violated. The Police De- rtment is only prohibited from keep- g a man stationed inside the club- use, the Judge said. "The right to do is," he said, "is the main legal point the case. 52 MEN ARRESTED BECAUSE OF LACK OF AIR IN HOTELS

Inspectors Swoop Down on East Side Lodging Houses Under New Law.

Before laying himself down to sleep in East St. Louis, a man must hereafter measure his room to make sure that it contains 550 cubic feet of air for him, and the same amount for every other person sleeping there. If it does not, he is in danger of being yanked from his couch at the dread hour of midnight, or thereabout, and carried to the police station.

That was what happened to 52 men early Friday, in a series of lodging house raids which ended at 3:30 a. m.

Under the Illinois law, not only the proprietors of lodging houses, but the inmates, are liable for the violation of the statute. Therefore, Inspectors Grigsby, Fawcett and Lehmann arrested every man whom they found sleeping in rooms which had less than the required 550 cubic feet of air space for each occupant.

At 1400 Walnut avenue they arrested three men, at 1800 Brady avenue, 26; at 1536 Converse avenue, 9, and at 1501 Walnut avenue, 14. Nearly all were laborers who do not speak English, and who had the greatest difficulty in comprehending what it was all about.

In one room they found six men breathing a total air supply of 200 cubic feet. In some rooms they found men sleeping under beds, not in anticipation of a raid, but because it was apparently the regular custom. The vitiated air in one of the rooms almost overcame Inspector Grigsby, who grew faint.

The raids are the sequel of an inquiry into the lodging house situation by the East St. Louis Board of Health.

PRACTICAL WORK

Of the Anti-Tuberculosis League

The Anti-Tuberculosis Leagues in the large cities of America are doing more practical work for the prevention of consumption than all the medicines under the sun can do toward curing it.

The Leagues are preaching the gospel of pure food, cleanliness, fresh air, exercise and personal hygiene. They are emphasizing the importance of arresting every cold and cough in its very earliest stages, thus preventing the culture of the tubercular bacillus in the mucous membranes.

One of the simplest of home remedies—pure virgin oil of pine mixed with glycerine and whiskey—is declared to be the best and quickest acting cure for colds. Care should be taken to procure only the genuine oil of pine as prepared for this purpose by the Leach Chemical Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio. It is for sale at all drug stores. Its action is immediate, and the worst colds yield to its gentle action within twenty-four hours.

ASKS JURY TRIAL IN CASE AGAINST CITY

Attorney Johnson Objects to Referee—City Has Counter Claim Involving Adkins.

A motion filed by Attorney C. Porter Johnson, representing the City Construction Co., asks Judge Allen to set aside his ruling by which he held that the suit of that company against the city for $793 should be heard by a referee. This is the case in which the city, in its answer, asks judgment on a counter claim against the plaintiff for more than $5000, based on allegations of fraud against former Water Commissioner Ben C. Adkins, who, it is charged, illegally issued vouchers to the construction company while he was in charge of the Water Department.

The city asked that the case be heard by a referee because of the various intricate accounts which will have to be examined. Attorney Johnson, in his exceptions, says it is a case for a jury to determine on the facts as to whether there was fraud.

A WARNING TO MANY.

Some Interesting Facts Regarding Health Statistics.

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, after making a chemical analysis, knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease, which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1910, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and they will gladly forward it to you absolutely free, by mail.

Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c. and $1.00.

A STEAM ROLLER DEMONSTRATION.

The Taft managers in Missouri gave an extraordinary demonstration of steam-roller work in the Third Congressional District. The Roosevelt men were two to one in number, but the machine and the police gave the Taft men the hall, the organization and the brand of regularity. The Roosevelt men have the odium of bolting and the disadvantage of a contesting delegation.

Col. Roosevelt is experiencing the difference tween sitting on the steam roller and standing front of it. If other district conventions and state conventions are duplicates of this first vention since the announcement of the Col-'s candidacy, the national Republican convenwill be bedlam.

at will be the effect on the Republican ? Will Col. Roosevelt and his band of l insurrectos stand the mashing process? ical result of the Colonel's campaign is arty. As the leading revolutionary he neglect this opportunity to revolution-n politics.

WHY RAISE THE PRICE OF BEER?

When brewers increase the cost of their product to the retailers, the latter threaten the public with smaller glasses of beer. Why a few cents added to the price he pays for a barrel of beer should warrant the retailer cutting down the size of the nickel glass does not appear. The Steel Trust only makes 40 per cent on its product, but the man who retails beer makes a profit that runs into the realm of frenzied finance.

-gallon barrel of beer holds 288 pints. The e glass of beer is less than a pint, a good ss. At two-thirds of a pint to the glass are 394 glasses to the barrel, retailing at —In those bars where the average glass frothed to leave not more than one-half pint liquid, the income goes up to $28.80 per barl.

Admitting the cost of license and other overhead charges, there is still a fat margin of profit in a barrel of beer that costs the retailer $6 or $7, or even $10. And the glass of beer is too universally a part of the daily life of the wage-earner or the saloon keeper to be permitted to reduce size rather than make up the slight loss gh increased cost by extending his trade h fair dealing.

PIE A LA McCULLOCH.

oration Capt. Robert McCulloch, president of the United Railways, delivered at the eum on apple pie very properly minimized airdome apple pie, open at the top, and the e-story, shack apple pie and concentrated on skyscraper apple pie.

er authorities emphasize the importance me in baking apple pie. Capt McCulloch sizes the importance of space in the mak—According to his blue print of the conructive work on pay-as-you-enter apple pie, a aft sunk at the top should show a distance exactly two inches between upper crust and wer crust. The principal ingredients are these o inches, a dash of nutmeg and a wineglass of mellow whisky or old brandy poured over the pie just before it goes to the oven.

Separation of crusts giving only two inches of clear headway would be deemed insufficient in Montgomery County, Mo., whose 16-hands-igh apple pie is famous, even in the Eastern e belt. In Missouri, too, the general practice to run the nutmeg and the high-voltage trolley juice on different time schedules, the latter being poured over the pie about five minutes after the last bite of it has been swallowed. It is fair to say, however, that the wineglass of trolley juice coupled as a trailer to the nutmeg seems to merit the captain's impassioned and poetic per-ration.

Missouri will experiment with pie a la McCulch, which seems to have pie a la mode "beat frazzle."

DOES DISSOLUTION DISSOLVE?

Under the ruling of Judge Kinsey that testimony bearing on the alleged effort of Standard Oil stockholders to control the Waters Pierce Oil Co. shall be taken, the contest for the control of the latter corporation assumes great interest and importance.

Primarily the object of the inquiry ordered by Judge Kinsey is to discover whether the Standard Oil Co. is violating the order of the State Supreme Court for the complete separation of the oil companies originally subsidiary to Standard Oil doing business in Missouri. But the inquiry touches the larger question of whether there has been a severance of Standard Oil and its subsidiaries under and in accordance with the decision and order of the Federal Supreme Court.

The issue is clearly made in the contest. There seems to be no question of the ownership of a majority of the stock of the Waters Pierce Oil Co. by Standard Oil magnates. Nor is there any doubt of the effort to elect Standard Oil representatives on the board of the Waters Pierce company.

The facts disclosed may force the question of the real meaning and effect of the decision of the United States Supreme Court dissolving the Oil Trust. It may force the question of the effectiveness of civil remedies under the Sherman law and the question of what further remedies are needed.

If orders of dissolution do not work there is yet the opportunity to test the efficacy of the criminal clause.

Webster Groves seems to be making real progress in grade separation. St. Louis should study its technique.

DEPLORABLE.

We deplore that a man enjoying the confidence and esteem of the people to the extent that Theodore Roosevelt has in the past should so shake such confidence and destroy his usefulness in the eyes of all thoughtful men by advocating such doctrines as the recall of Judges or judicial decisions or the regulation of business by administration commission.

The uncompromising position of an intelligent and powerful element of the American people is expressed in this plank of the platform adopted by the Taft wing of the Republican convention in the Third District of Missouri.

J. P. Morgan is importing his $50,000,000 art treasure. And to think he paid for it out of his commission on one business deal!

WHAT IS THE PULL?

St. Louis has very real need of the ordinance to regulate dance halls, theaters, moving picture shows, summer gardens and other places of amusement. That the law as originally drafted has been amended by the House of Delegates so as to destroy its usefulness is not to the credit of members of the House. It indicates a pull stronger than the public interest.

Effective regulation of all places of amusement is an imperative necessity. To exempt theaters and moving picture shows from a regulating ordinance would be class legislation of the rankest kind. The bill as amended would create jobs for a few political trusties. It would also nullify itself by preventing those who desire effective inspection and regulation of amusement resorts from exercising any activity to insure effectiveness.

A perfunctory political regulation squad will not serve the public interests in this case. It will only help such amusement enterprises as wish to dodge regulation to hide their unsavory character. Legislation to regulate amusement places should provide for real regulation, independent of politics and uninfluenced by amusement proprietors, for the protection of the young men and women of St. Louis.

"Dr. Abbott defends Roosevelt," is a headline the newspapers should keep standing these days.

THE RECLAMATION OF A MAN.

After giving evidences of reformation, Patrick Fleming, prisoner at the St. Louis Workhouse, encountered temptation in the form of an opportunity to escape and yielded. However, after three months at large he decided that he wanted liberty less than a restoration of the confidence of the prison officials which he had abused. He made his way back voluntarily to serve out the unexpired portion of his 12 months' sentence.

The penology that runs to sentimentalism and coddling does not produce such results. Delinquents sneer at efforts for their reformation based on a combination of weakness and emotionalism. The purpose for which reformatories are maintained are accomplished only by policies which exemplify strength as well as humanity and the principles of the square deal.

Fleming's return and the apology he offered for his escape are a tribute to the management of the workhouse. It will be surprising if he does not rehabilitate himself. The leaven of self-respect is working.

A Missourian's will provides that his old horse shall rest in comfort to the end of his days. Some day old men and women will be as well taken care of as old horses and dogs.

DR. WILEY HAS WHIP HAND.

The country will not only be amused but greatly gratified by the position of exceptional strength in which Dr. H. W. Wiley suddenly finds himself. The issue of honest and unobstructed policies aimed at poisoned foods and deleterious remedies can be raised by him in the assurance that the administration would not dare to accept the alternative of his retiring from the department. How damaging such a blow would be to Mr. Taft with the campaign already under way is shown by the outcry that followed Attorney-General Wickersham's recommendation of condign punishment and the almost unanimous approval of the disinterested press when the doctor was officially vindicated from malicious charges.

But Dr. Wiley should not be persuaded by the tempter to enter politics. He has the confidence of the public as an expert engaged in a necessary and important work demanding special qualifications. To become a candidate for Vice-President would create the presumption of a political motive in reaching professional decisions.

The advantage he now has over intriguing enemies should be used to pl... the pure food work on a permanent basis. He is not needed to preside over the Senate. He is needed in his present office of Chief Chemist.

"Browbeat," "intimidate," "thwart the will of the voters," are some of the terms used by Gov. Hadley's fellow Republicans in formal resolutions denouncing his pro-Roosevelt course in the Third District. An awful smash followed the collision between State and Federal steam rollers.

THE BROKEN PLEDGE.

On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and a half years, and this three and a half years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and under NO CIRCUMSTANCES WILL I BE AGAIN A CANDIDATE FOR OR ACCEPT ANOTHER NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENT.—Theodore Roosevelt, Nov. 8, 1904.

I have not changed and shall not change that decision thus announced.—Theodore Roosevelt, Dec. 11, 1907.

I WILL ACCEPT THE NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENT IF IT IS TENDERED TO ME. —Theodore Roosevelt, Feb. 26, 1912.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Rival Songs.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The growing popularity of the "Gotta Quit Kickin My Dog Aroun'" ballad has given rise to a number of very peculiar criticisms coming from no mean sources. In fact, no less a musical authority than Mr. Alfred Robyn expressed the opinion that this classical composition was destined to rival, if not outshine, the once justly celebrated "Hot Time" song. I have no feeling, so to speak, against the "dog" song, but I rise with a sort of holy indignation at the mere mention of its being compared with the "Hot Time." From the day that Josephine Sabel first shouted it over the vaudeville footlights, calling upon the audience to join in the chorus, the "Hot Time" has been dear to the hearts of the American people. The effect was electrical. With one bound it became the most popular song of its kind that was written. During the Spanish-American War it threatened to become the exclusive American national air, so much was it sung by the soldiers and played by the bands. The University of Wisconsin turned it into the greatest football song of history, besides which the famous ditties of Harvard and Yale sink into insignificance. Let the critics be careful where they tread.

ALEXANDER M. FRANKENTHAL.

Seats for All.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The remarks of "A St. Louisan" prompted me to ask him a question. Doesn't a man pay for his seat as well as a woman? And, isn't everybody entitled to one as long as they pay for it? A large percentage of men are just as tired as women, the majority of them working the hardest. Why not make the car company build more and larger cars? Also pass a law compelling them never to take on any more passengers on a car than the number that can be seated. It is done in all the European cities, why not in America? Is America backward in progress? America is never backward where profit is concerned, but it certainly is where the welfare of the people is concerned.

ROSE M. W.

Reply to an Orphan.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I was much interested in the inquiry of the young girl in this column for some out-door employment which would earn her a living. She tells us that she has been employed indoors and that thereby her health is breaking. If she is not a victim of lung trouble or other chronic infectious trouble which might be communicated she should be able to turn her hand to any one of several pursuits which will give a much needed change and plenty of fresh air.

Take an agency for some good and popular publication or for some household commodity of small cost or for some ladies' and children's specialty—something that all the people want and that most of them can buy; then with your best foot forward canvass well those parts of city and country where such articles are needed and can be sold.

A well-to-do farming community is a fertile field for an energetic lady agent. In such place she will meet with kindly treatment and money enough to purchase her wares.

If not this, why not a governess in some well-to-do suburban or country home? This will furnish ample opportunity to breathe the fresh air and bask in the sunshine.

O I. C.

Suggestions for Operation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

As this cool season is the best time for a surgical operation allow me to inform our Board of Health that there is a serious case of appendicitis in our western suburbs which needs instant attention.

Myself and several other citizens of Hodiamont and Wellston have warned the St. Louis County Court that the malodorous effluvia exhaling from this nuisance, particularly in summer, is sufficient in quantity to poison the entire atmosphere for miles around and is especially adapted to spread contagious and deadly diseases throughout the western half of St. Louis City. But that sage body could neither smell the odor nor see the point; it positively refused to expend the sacred taxes of the people for the purpose of relieving the patient.

Let not the good people of Cabanne, or any other favored section of the West End, imagine, as they open their window shutters of mornings, that the aroma they sniff is fragrant attar of roses scattered by the Goddess Aurora on the translucent atmosphere of the dawning day. Paugh! They have another guess coming. It is just simply noxious odors distilled from that Wellston appendix, commonly known as the northern branch of the River des Peres.

JOSEPH FLYNN.

All Safe Now.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I was pleased to note a few days ago that the Chief of Police had issued orders by which every man found on the street at night toting a gun would be arrested and brought to justice. Naturally being a stranger to the city and not knowing your ways I felt that this meant that all the crooks and men suspected of being hold-uppers would be quickly brought in, or at least prevented from using the gun on the peaceful citizen and that hereafter when out late at night and wending my way to my hotel I could feel assured that no deadly weapon would be placed under my nose.

I was greatly surprised to note in today's papers that a clerk of one of the courts here had been arrested for having a gun and this is the only arrest that I have had the pleasure of reading about since the order issued by the chief. I presume that he, and the rest of the department anticipate that now this arrest has been made an example is held up to all good citizens, that hold-ups will be a thing of the past and we can all feel safe on the streets of St. Louis at any time during the 24 hours.

A STRANGER IN THE CITY.

DANGER.

LAST OF ITS KIND.

From the Warrensburg (Mo.) Journal.

The Joplin convention is perhaps the last of its kind that will ever be held in Missouri. Ere another presidential year rolls around there will be a law by which a State's choice for President will be determined by primary. On this point we indorse the following comment from Editor Southern of Independence:

"Government by caucus is a broken down system, and while it still obtains in most of the states of the Union, must disappear before the whole people. A case in point is the Joplin convention. A caucus in Washington where there were probably less than half a dozen Democrats has arranged the details of that convention and practically agreed upon the national delegates, probably upon the platform. It has cleared the way of all who would like to see a popular vote determine the voice of Missouri and the strings have been gathered into the hands of the politicians. Nothing else has been expected in this convention. There is no State primary law which governs the expression of a presidential choice. In the Republican party the measures will be even harsher and more arbitrary. The machine in Missouri has not the slightest idea of permitting more than a few men to have a say in the matter."

WATTERSON'S PREDECESSOR.

From the World's Work

State Chairman Nugent of New Jersey was giving a dinner to a small but convivial party at "Scotty's," a restaurant at Avon, on the Jersey coast. A party of officers of the New Jersey National Guard, then in camp at Sea Girt, near by, was seated at an adjoining table.

Nugent sent wine to the officers' table and asked them to join his own party in a toast. The diners at both tables arose. "I give you," cried Nugent, "the Governor of the State of New Jersey"—all glasses were raised; Nugent finished—"a liar and an ingrate!" The diners stood for a moment stupefied. "Do I drink alone?" shouted the host.

He did drink alone. The glasses were set down untouched; some of the officers indignantly threw out their wine on the floor. Then all dispersed and Nugent was left alone.

The following day a majority of the members of the State Committee signed a call for a meeting to elect a new chairman.

A Delicate Position.

From the Washington Star.

"That was an annoying coincidence," said Mr. Higgins. "It took great tact to manage it."

"What's the trouble?"

"The pension examiner and the life insurance doctor both called on me at the same time."

THE HOUND'S FAREWELL.

GOODBY, Missouri, I'm going away;
I never thought I'd live to see the day
When a good honest hound of world-wide fame
Would have to hang his ears in shame.

THEY used to say a prophet had no honor in
The little neck of woods where he wagged his chin,
But I never saw a hound of the Ozark breed
That wasn't considered worth his feed.

I'VE chased the rabbit and I've treed the coon
I've puffed and panted in the Ozark noon,
I've been kicked from Lebanon to Koshkonong,
And made the subject of a derned good song.

NOW a man named Hadley says I'm just a hound,
And therefore ought to be kicked around;
So it's goodby paw-paw and hollow log—
I'm off for a place where they love a dog.

MEAN PEOPLE.

Henry Russell, the head of the Boston opera, was describing his foreign tour in search of talent.

"They are mean people," he said of the singers of a certain city. "I could do no business with them. They thought only of money."

Mr. Russell smiled.

"They were as bad as the man who discovered the Blank Theater fire.

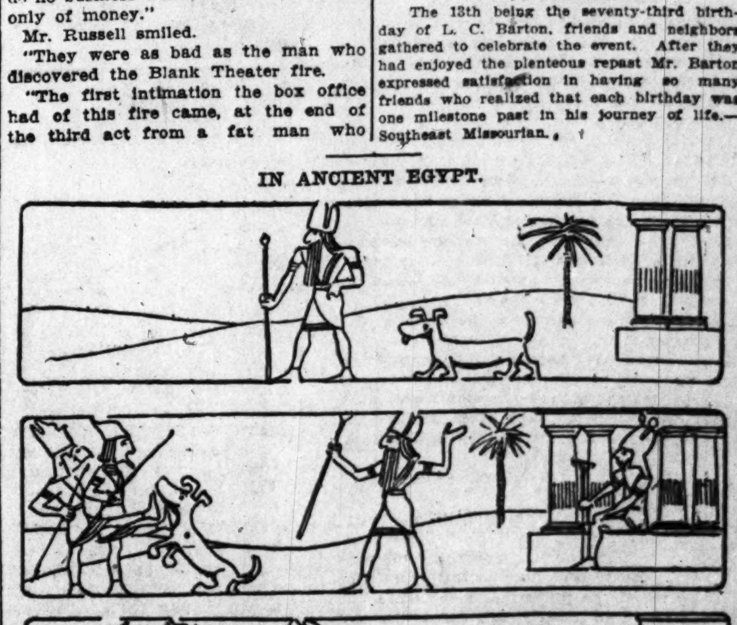

"The first intimation the box office had of this fire came, at the end of the third act from a fat man who bounded down the gallery stairs, stuck his face in at the ticket window and shouted breathlessly:

"'Theater's afire. Gimme me money back!'"

They Realized It.

The 13th being the seventy-third birthday of L. C. Barton, friends and neighbors gathered to celebrate the event. After they had enjoyed the plenteous repast Mr. Barton expressed satisfaction in having so many friends who realized that each birthday was one milestone past in his journey of life.—Southeast Missourian.

The Trade Rat Mine

By EUSTACE V. BRAY.

The Daily Short Story for Post-Dispatch Readers

IF the tourist or the tramp, straying from the direct route between Marysville and Oroville, chances to wander for a while along a well-defined trail on the banks of a brawling branch of the Feather River, he is pretty sure to come upon a weather-beaten cabin, and to be surprised by the singular object under a glass case that may be seen through its only window. Sometimes the curious traveler also gets a glimpse of the occupant of this lonely abode, a gaunt, bent old man, with hair and beard and shaggy brows of silvery whiteness.

Horace Robb, though accustomed from boyhood to live and look out for himself, was by no means always a hermit, shunning his kind. He came to California in the early '60s—not a pioneer, but a follower in the track of the earliest searchers for gold. Youth, enthusiasm, restless energy and a determination to win a fortune for her whom he had left behind were his incentives to untiring effort, but they did not bring success. The greater the endeavor, it seemed to him, the smaller the result. Now and again he found a color or two, just enough to keep him on the move.

Finally, tired, for the time, of roaming, he relocated an abandoned placer claim on this foaming branch of the Feather River, inheriting with it a deserted cabin and its meager plenishing of rude table, stool and bunk, and rusty pots and pans. He straightened up the rickety door, cleared out the spring, and installed his stock of bacon, beans and potatoes. Then he settled down to days of weary tramping with pick and pan and nights of deep and dreamless sleep.

From the second day of his sojourn, Robb had found sticks, pebbles and other trash among his beans, and attributed the adulteration to a dishonest trader, but as the weeks went by the stock of beans diminished with alarming rapidity, while the refuse increased in proportion. Next the potato sack seemed filling up with rubbish also, and the potatoes went faster than he ate them.

One day, returning suddenly to the cabin for a forgotten implement, he surprised a great rat in the act of dragging a candle into a hole which Robb had supposed to be securely stopped, and the cause of the disappearance of his supplies became apparent. But the steady increase of sticks and stones was still a puzzle to him, until he recalled some of the queer tales told to him by miners of the trade rats that are said to be born with a sense of justice, and "cannot help trying to do the square thing."

Without stopping to theorize, he determined to put the matter to practical proof, and when he went to his next day's work he placed a tempting piece of bacon rind on the stump that served him as a sideboard, leaving the rat-hole still unstopped. When he came home that the bacon was gone and in its was a stone. Day after day he re- the experiment, until it became a with him to put a remnant of e cake or a bit of bacon or potato non this stump, and invariably he l at night a chip or twig or pebble ace of the vanished scrap of food.

morning—a clear, crisp California ing—Horace Robb put in the cus- ry place on the stump a small nent from his fast-emptying larder started out in search of his fortune once more. He went to a different , but there was no different result. he returned to his cabin at the day's as near to tears as a man of his e ever comes. Perfunctorily he pre- d and ate the meal which he meant to be the last in that place, except a breakfast in the morning. Then as listlessly he lighted a candle. Its rays fell upon the stump where he had laid his last donation to the trade rat and sparkled upon a bright yellow nugget, about the size of a lima bean. His breath left him and then came back in gasps. There before his eyes was gold—the object of every hour's toil and hope—gold, brought to him without a stroke of labor!

He sat back on his stool, lighted his pipe at the candle, and smoked and thought. There was nobody camped within miles and miles of him; no trace of a wayfarer upon the ground within the cabin or without. There could be no doubt that the nugget had been placed there by the trade rat, and he watched for his pet's usual evening appearance almost as eagerly as if assured that the animal would reply to his anxious questions. But the creature did not come, and he stretched himself in his bunk.

Early in the morning he was up, investigating the rat-hole, which extended deep into the ground beyond the cabin wall. There was a little fresh gravel around the mouth of the hole that convinced Robb of the source from which the gold had come, and he went outside and with nervous speed dug straight down into the burrow, which he widened and deepened as he worked. About three feet from the surface he came upon as promising a bed of gravel as a placer miner ever saw. Fortune had surrendered to him at last!

As he dug into the deep deposit, which he knew meant wealth, his hands trembled and he worked in a frenzy of exultant hope. Suddenly there was an upheaval among the rattling gravel, a flash of something brown, the gleam of a bright black eye and the whisk of a tail. Robb was just then thrusting down his shovel with frantic strength, and, unable to check it, the sharp blade struck the trade rat on the head, stretching it at his feet.

Horace Robb paused, even in that supreme moment of gold-hunger, to raise tenderly the little creature that had piloted him to wealth. He carried it to the creek and vainly endeavored to restore the life that had gone. When his day's hard work was suspended, he took time from his hours of slumber to carefully remove the skin from his departed comrade.

In five days he had panned out 21 pounds of coarse nuggets, carrying the gravel down to the creek and washing it there, and the end of the treasure was not in sight. Still, it was only a pocket, of course, and the end came in time, but not until it had yielded enough to support a man of moderate desires all the days of his life.

Some men would have lingered at the scene of such a success, searching for another golden pocket, but only half of Horace Robb's ambition was achieved—the gold was but the means to an end. And so, as fast as his sturdy limbs would carry him, he hastened to the outer world.

When he reached Sacramento he found a delayed letter from HER. Anxiously he skimmed the passages in which she dwelt upon her long period of waiting, and he turned white when he reached the announcement of her marriage with another. And that is why the discovery of the "Trade Rat Mine" returned to that lonely cabin on a wild affluent of the Feather River, and why the great Trade Rat, under its dome of glass, is now, in the old man's frozen winter—as it was in his lusty springtime—his sole companion there.

Leap Year Holdups

(Would You Think It? Cupid to the Rescue.)

Drawn for the Post-Dispatch By ELEANOR SCHORER.

Goodness. How Bessie's joyous little heart goes pit-a-pat when she has a real man gagged and securely tied in a big chair behind locked doors while she runs off to fetch a parson to tie the last and strongest knot—the one that will make him hers forever! But Cupid had other plans for this man's future. So just in the nick of time he flitted through the window, shears in hand, and set the Leap Year victim free. But not for long, for that very afternoon Cupid himself married this same man to the girlie who HE thought would make him happy.

The Jarr Family

(There Is an Atmosphere of High Art in the Jarr Home.)

Written for the Post-Dispatch By ROY L. McCARDELL.

MR. SIDNEY SLAVINSKY seated himself at the piano in an attitude that denoted plain how sure he left that he could slam the life out of the old thing.

He was about two feet back from the piano, with his right foot on the loud pedal—the only one used in the syncopated school of music—his left leg was crossed over his right knee, and his shoulders were bent forward. A cigarette, unlighted, hung from his lips, seemingly by capillary attraction, at an acute downward angle.

Then he put both feet down, pulled up his neatly pressed trousers at the knees, crossed his left leg over his right and dug in a side pocket for an automatic lighter and snapped the lid. Strange to say, the patent lighter lit at the first spark. He was a wonderful young man, indeed. He paused a moment with the lighter poised and said:

"Object to my smokin' in here?"

"Oh, not at all!" replied Mrs. Jarr.

And Mr. Jarr and Mrs. Clara Mudridge-Smith nodded approval also.

"Well, if you do, you can leave the room," said the young man, airily.

This being taken for what it was—the latest bit of repartee—the ladies tittered appreciatively, while Mr. Jarr doubled his fist and wondered, if he swung on the young man (who was billed in the "Big Time" as "The Funny Maginnis") the young man would go clean off the stool and out of the window or only part of the way.

"Do you play Liszt's 'Hungarian Rhapsodie?'" asked Mrs. Jarr.

(This being a piano composition she remembered from her girlhood piano practice days.)

"They'd walk out on you at a vaudeville house with that highbrow stuff," said young Mr. Slavinsky. "I never bothered my nut to get it by ear. If you want to 'get over' you hand 'em something like this.' And, casting a languishing glance on Mrs. Mudridge-Smith, he smote the keyboard a resounding crash and sang pointedly at her:

Oh, you beautiful doll, you great big beautiful doll!

"But do you think it is necessary to have to sing to be a success on the stage?" asked Mrs. Mudridge-Smith, to hide her not-displeased embarrassment, and also to relieve a tension which might have resulted in Mr. Jarr throwing the gay musician out of his front room.

"Sure. Sure!" said the authority on Thespian matters. "You gotta be there with what the public wants. What saved 'The Hot Tomale Girl?' Why, putting in the whirlwind dancers and interpolating some up-to-the-minute songs."

"But Maude Adams doesn't sing ragtime, nor Billie Burke, nor Ethel Barrymore," said Mrs. Mudridge-Smith, who hadn't decided which of these three she would act like.

"Well, it would be better for them if they did," said young Mr. Slavinsky.

"Oh, dear!" sighed the stage-struck young matron. "I did so hope you'd suggest I'd be better in something by Pinero or Belasco."

"Well, you'll have to go to them ginks, then," said the gentleman at the piano, frankly, "but anybody with the nerve and who can dress and act swell can break into vaudeville. You gotta be an artist at that; you gotta know how to dance the new stuff and sing the new stuff. If you was to shoot your husband, now, you could get booked as quick as young Rockefeller could if he wanted to go into vaudeville."

"But I am not going to shoot my husband," said young Mrs. Mudridge-Smith. "I'm simply going to depend on my talent."

Young Mr. Slavinsky closed down the piano with a sigh.

"No wonder the moving pictures are packing 'em in," he said, regretfully. "With them diamonds you got, and a good romantic molder, you'd be booked in the 'Big Time' 40 weeks. And you want to do the Leslie Carter! Yet they want to vote!"

He would have gone away from there in disgust, but that he was coaxed to stay and give the eager aspirant more advice from the vast treasury of his experience of what the public wants.

TAKING CARE OF THE SKIN

CORRECT MASSAGE

Advice and Recipes for Writers of Inquiries to BILLIE BURKE.

READERS of the Billie Burke series telling women how to be eternally young and beautiful have asked for a repetition of the directions for massaging and for recipes for massage and cold cream, which follow:

Massage is most effective when it follows steaming, or washing the face in hot water, and can only be done at night.

Dip the tips of the fingers in a good cold cream and rub it into the skin with a gentle, circular motion, taking care to stroke across, not down any lines that exist, and not omitting the hollows about the eyes and nose. Stroke upwards from beneath the chin; this tends to reduce a double chin and round out a thin face.

Massage until the last trace of cream has vanished. In the morning bathe with cold or tepid water and dust with prepared oatmeal, which prevents redness and roughness.

This massage improves the circulation as well as cleansing the skin, but one must remember that it is necessary to have good health before one can be sure of a good, clear complexion.

Diet has a great effect on the appearance, so if the skin is oily it is necessary to avoid all rich and greasy food. Wiping the face occasionally with diluted eau-de-cologne is beneficial in the case of an oily skin, and lemon juice is excellent for cleansing purposes. A few drops of ammonia or a pinch of borax in the water with which the face is washed is also helpful.

It is quite easy, and far more economical, to make one's own creams and toilet mixtures. And for another thing, one can then be sure that all ingredients are harmless and of best quality only.

A Good Massage Cream.

Lanolin	2½ ounces
Spermaceti	6 drams
White vaseline	2½ ounces
Cocoanut oil	2 ounces
Sweet almond oil	2 ounces
Tincture of benzoin	½ dram

Melt the first five ingredients together and heat until the mass stiffens, adding the benzoin, drop by drop, during this process. Violet or other extract can be added if liked.

Cold Cream for the Face.

Rosewater	4 ounces
Almond oil	4 ounces
Spermaceti	1 ounce
White wax	1 ounce

Mix as above, with any favorite perfume.

Cherry Lip Salve.

Balsam of Peru	15 grains
Spermaceti ointment	1 ounce
Alkanet root	15 grains
Oil of cloves	5 drops

Heat the alkanet in the spermaceti ointment until the latter melts and the whole is a deep rose color. Pass through a strainer, then slightly cool, stirring in the balsam. Let it settle for a few moments, then pour off the clear part and add the oil of cloves. Pour into small pots. It is ready for use as soon as cold.

Fable for Everyday Folk Written for the Post-Dispatch

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB.

NCE upon a time there was a stingy fellow. You know him. You have seen him OFTEN. Dickens knew him very well. called him "Scrooge." Some of us call him "tight-wad"—ers of us, charitably inclined, call m "a little close." But the fact reains he was STINGY. No need to look the dictionary for what that means. metimes it is mean enough to mean THING. (Pray pardon the pun.)

One beautiful moonlight Wednesday, hile out enjoying the FREE air, little upid came along, aimed his arrow at him and—to make a long story short—he was in love. (Of course, as far as the nature of a selfish, stingy fellow is capable of loving.)

She was a very nice girl. For, in the course of human events, opposite types are in the HABIT of meeting. So it came to pass that the choice of the stingy fellow fell on a big open-hearted, loving, charitable and kind human.

So he went into the courting business much as he did ANY other. He really bought a few carnations (they were cheap). He also bought a couple of seats at a theater—in the balcony—occasionally.

Now it also happens in the course of everyday events (and nobody knows any real reason why) people who marry each other never see each other as OTHER people see them. This being the case, they were married.

Then she tasted a little something of the stingy side.

One cold Saturday night he came home expecting to find "Alice-sit-by-the-fire" on the job, awaiting him with his slippers and his evening paper. But he found the proverbial note telling the tale of her miserly existence with him—"Home to Mother."

He read it over and over and thought and thought. He began to see that he had EXISTED rather than LIVED.'

He was almost human, so old Col. Remorse was not an unwelcome visitor at his lonesome stock-taking of life. He wondered if he had really been too busy guarding his own stinginess.

He realized that it was wise to be careful, economical. But a stingy man is ANOTHER story. Perhaps he understood in time, and perhaps he won her back.

ADVICE ON

Love and Courtesy

Written for the Post-Dispatch By BETTY VINCENT.

When He Doesn't Propose.

IN the great majority of cases a young man who loves a girl enough to wish her to marry him tells her so—in short, proposes.

Every now and then some girl writes me a letter something like this: "A certain young man has called on me regularly for some time. He has also taken me out, given me candy and paid me other attentions. I like him very much indeed. How can I find out if he really cares for me?"

My dear, if he does care, you will have no difficulty in learning of the fact. It will be set up before your gaze in large headlines—sooner or later. The hesitating young man either wants to get better acquainted, or he is screwing up his courage to an avowal of his affections.

If, after a reasonable length of time, your friend has not asked to be something nearer, you are safe in assuming that he "doesn't care THAT way."

Change of Heart.

H. M. writes: "I have been in love with a girl for over a year, and until recently she said she cared for me. Then, without giving any reason, she said she no longer loved me. What shall I do?"

I think you must accept the young lady's decision. It is better that her change of heart occurred before instead of after marriage.

Have Mother Ask Him.

K. M. writes: "A young man has long been intimate with our family, and paid me more or less attention, but he has never asked me to marry him. How shall I find out if he is serious?"

If he wishes to marry you he will ask you. If he doesn't propose, you can do nothing to make him.

Jealousy.

B. H. writes: "My fiance is extremely jealous, and has twice postponed our wedding because of quarrels on this score. Do you think I shall be happy with him?"

It is very doubtful. I think you would be wiser to break your engagement now.

Is She to Blame?

E. R. writes: "What is your opinion of a young man who, after calling on a young lady for four months, addresses her in letters as his 'future wife'?"

That he is gratuitously impertinent—unless she has promised to marry him.

Often Very Happy.

T. G. writes: "Will a difference in nationality make a marriage unhappy if two persons care about each other?"

There is always an extra element of risk in such marriages, but they frequently turn out well.

An Understanding.

M. writes: "I like a young man very much, but he will not be in a position to marry for several years. Consequently he suggests that instead of our engagement we continue our friendship, with the understanding that a change of mind on either side is allowable. Do you think this fair?"

Yes, indeed. Much more fair than an engagement of uncertain length.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. for the double-strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.—ADV.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—ADV.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR AT SMALL COST; SIMPLE REMEDY MAKES THE HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded and streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and luster if they would but use the proper treatment.

There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment.

GIRL AND A WOMAN ATTACKED BY NEGROES

Young Woman Knocked Down by Man Who Escapes in South Side Chase.

Miss Mamie Albienszt, 18 years old, of 6321 Pennsylvania avenue, was stopped in front of Henry Westhaus' residence, 6321 Minnesota avenue, at 9 p. m. Thursday by a negro, who politely asked the way to Malt street. As the girl turned to point the way the negro knocked her down, placed his hand over her mouth and began struggling with her. She screamed and Westhaus chased the negro into an alley, where he escaped by jumping over a fence.

Half an hour before this attack Mrs. Catherine Green, 30 years old, of 7020 South Grand avenue, was stopped at Loughborough and Colorado avenues by a negro, who pointed a revolver at her and said: "Come with me." She ran back to Idaho avenue, where a man, who gave his name as Charles Brown, chased the negro.

The assailant in each case is described as about 30 years old and shabbily dressed. Two suspects were arrested by patrolmen from the Carondelet Station.

GOVERNMENT TO FORCE CONCESSION TO ENGLISH MINERS

Asquith Says Minimum Wage Must Be Granted, Making Strikers Jubilant.

800,000 WORKERS IDLE

South Wales Men Alone Are Ugly—Railway Unions Stand by the Coal Diggers.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1912, by Press Publishing Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, March 1.—"The Government having recognized the principle of minimum wage for all underground workers, if it is not secured by agreement it will be secured by the Government by other means."

In these words Prime Minister Asquith threw down the gauntlet in the face of the coal owners in the most important speech ever made on the labor question.

The threat was uttered by the Prime Minister before the members of the National Miners' Federation.

Asquith declared that a majority—certainly 60 per cent—of the coal owners had assented to the Government's proposals. He concluded his speech with an appeal to the miners to allow reasonable latitude for discussion with respect to fixing minimum wages, and not to insist upon rigid adherence to the schedule adopted by the Miners' Federation.

Some Owners Give In.

Some headway toward a settlement of the miners' strike was made when the Northumberland coal owners, who rejected the Government proposals, agreed to the first two clauses, which declare that certain underground workers are unable to earn a reasonable minimum wage and that such a wage should be secured by arrangements suitable to special districts. The coal owners insisted, however, that disposition and ability to earn such a wage should be a consideration.

The position taken by the Government gives confidence to the miners, who are now sure of ultimate victory.

Premier Asquith's new proposal—that the question of safeguards which the owners demand must be considered—has at last met with agreement on the part of the miners, who have signified their willingness to negotiate this.

Meanwhile meetings of railroad employes have adopted resolutions pledging themselves to abstain from handling coal produced by nonunionists or from handling trains bringing troops to the disturbed area.

With Premier Asquith, Lloyd-George has devoted his whole time to the work of peacemaking.

1,049,047 Men Are on Strike.

There are 1,049,407 men on strike and others will quit work today. In England the miners are orderly and good-natured, but in South Wales an ugly feeling prevails.

If the strike goes to extremes it easily may result in the destruction of the ministry.

The principal hope for an early settlement lies in the probability that English miners will tire of undergoing privations to please the Welsh irreconcilables.

France takes 10,000,000 tons of coal annually from British mines. Italy and Germany take 9,000,000 each, Sweden nearly 5,000,000, and Russia 4,000,000. Spain, Argentina, Egypt, Holland and Norway take about 2,000,000 each. The total production for 1909 from all British mines was 263,774,312 tons of a value at the pit mouth of $531,000,000. More than 1,000,000 persons are employed in and about the mines, of which 815,381 worked underground in 1909. Women coal sorters at surface number 6000.

NO DELAY OF THE CANAL

Neither Will Earth Slides Add to Cost.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The great earth slides in the Culebra cut, aggregating four and one-third billion cubic yards, will not increase the estimate cost of constructing that section of the Panama Canal, according to an official statement in the Canal Record. This is because the cost of excavation per cubic yard has been reduced 36 cents below the original estimate as a result of the adoption of superior machinery and methods.

Increased efficiency on the part of the excavators also will prevent this tremendous amount of extra work from affecting the estimated time of completion.

WOULD DIE FOR BALLOT

Pastor Says Women Taxpayers Have Right to Vote.

EVANSTON, Ill., March 1.—"If I were a woman and a property owner, I would go to the penitentiary and die there before I would pay taxes without being given the right to vote," said the Rev. F. G. Smith, Congregational minister and member of the Illinois Legislature, in a speech here on "The Relation of the Church to Politics." "The property-owning woman is as much oppressed as we were when our flag was born," he continued. "Without the right to the ballot she is a mere nothing."

The Rev. Mr. Smith said the people of Illinois are no better than any grafting legislator whom they permit to be elected by remaining away from the polls.

Come See Howard E. Coffin's Masterpiece—Down-Town Exhibit

Winter Automobile Exhibit in the Heart of St. Louis 404 N. Fourth Street

Howard E. Coffin has built 6 famous cars.

Each car, because it was a definite advance in motor car engineering, was the automobile of the year. So far advanced were they that several still sell as leaders of their class.

Howard E. Coffin, the foremost American motor car engineer, has never created a failure. He has built more cars than any other engineer.

But his latest, and naturally, his greatest creation is the New Self-Starting Hudson "33."

Like his previous cars, it is a distinct advancement over present-day cars. Its features cannot be had, in combination, on any other car until 1914 models of average cars are shown. Engineers work that far ahead. And this is the most widely copied car of its time.

Why wait two years until present-day cars catch up?

In Direct Ratio to Simplicity Upkeep Cost Is Minimized

If you have owned several cars you know that the simplest of these cars cost less to keep than cars of complicated design. This is because much of the rods, wires and bric-a-brac are eliminated.

There are fewer parts to look after, fewer to get out of order, fewer to need adjustment. This cuts down up-keep cost amazingly. And rods and wires on a car are the braces and supports that are necessary because of incorrect design.

All progressive motor car manufacturers are working toward simplicity—it is the ideal in every industry—potentially in the automobile industry.

But the car that is commonly acknowledged the simplest automobile built is the New Self-Starting Hudson "33." For it has approximately 1000 fewer parts than has the average motor car.

You will note the absence of rods and wires. They would be useless on the HUDSON, for its design, being the masterpiece of America's foremost engineer, is correct. There is no need for auxiliary supports and braces.

It is valuable to know this, for a complicated car is a constant money drain.

"Why I Bought the Hudson"

MANGSON, WEISS, HARDING & DOWDALL, Insurance Adjusters, St. Louis, Mo.

A few of the following reasons are why I chose the Hudson No. 33 Model Car.
First: Because of its noiseless Engine.
Second: The simplicity of this Engine.
Third: The good reputation of Mr. Coffin, the Designer.
Fourth: There seems to be a quite general conversation amongst various users of cars and dealers that the Hudson car had the class, quality and line that made it stand out as one of the coming cars.
This particular reason interested me in the car, so as to cause an investigation of its construction and running ability, leading to the purchase.
The self-starting device was a means of my disposing of the 1911 Model 33 car and at once, securing your new 1912 design, and I feel highly pleased with its service this far.
(Signed) THOMAS M. HARDING.

DR. HOWARD KEHDE, St. Louis.

A friend of mine had a Hudson and liked it very much. I liked the straight lines, the silent engine, its simplicity and ability to take any hill. Another thing that impressed me very favorably was that the dealer, Mr. Phillips, brought out the strong points of the Hudson without knocking any other car.
HOWARD KEHDE.

R. C. HARRIS, M. D., 1303 N. Garrison Av., St. Louis, Mo.

Your query.
Here is why I chose the Hudson in a nutshell—
(1) Just the roadster for the Doctor, strong, well made, protection against inclement weather.
(2) Superior workmanship and construction.
(3) Silent engine, plenty of power and oceans of speed.
(4) Beautiful to look at.
(5) Courtesy of the local agency.
(6) Not a single "knock," but a boost from every owner I inquired of here in St. Louis.
(7) The reasonable price for car and equipment.
(Signed) R. C. HARRIS, M. D.

HOFFSTETTER & BERTRAM, St. Louis, Mo.

When I bought my Hudson "20," about three years ago, I did not know anything about a motor car. This little Hudson "20" proved to be a success. I had very little trouble or repair bills. As your agents (Phillips Auto Co.) advised and helped me take care of my car, also did your factory. After three years' experience with the Hudson "20," which was in good condition, I sold same for a good price, as I wanted a larger car. I examined all cars that sell from $1500 to $2000, and in St. Louis you will find a great many. But it was impossible for me to find a car that would compare with the Hudson "33," and knowing from past experience that the factory and its agents would take care of my car.
That is why I chose a Hudson "33."
HUGO E. HOFFSTETTER.

FOX BROS. MFG. CO., Doors, Sash, Blinds and Mouldings, St. Louis, Mo.

Our selection of the Hudson was made primarily on account of the designer, Mr. Coffin, reinforced by the fact that, after taking into consideration durability, simplicity and design, we considered it the best car on the market for the money. We ran two Hudson cars in 1911 and were so pleased that we continued with the new 1912 Model. We find the 1912 likewise.
(Signed) FOX BROS. MFG. CO.

SCHAEFER BROS. CO., Builders' Supplies, St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 16, 1911.

While the Hudson car had been strongly recommended to me by both my brother, who owns a 1911 model, and also other Hudson buyers, my main reason for selecting a Hudson car, was, that the trim and tidy appearance, the very few parts used in the general construction and makeup of same, and above all the absolute quietness, simplicity and power of the engine convinced me without a doubt that in purchasing a Hudson car I could not possibly err.
(Signed) C. C. W. SCHAEFER.

How the Hudson Is Fortified Against Dirt and Grit

Dust, dirt and grit prove the ruination of most automobiles eventually. Dirt is the motor car's worst enemy, for it works in through the average car's mechanism, gets into the cylinders, finds its way to the bearings and shortly the motor—the heart of the car—is almost utterly useless.

As a step in motor car progress, Howard E. Coffin endeavored to devise a means of prolonging the car's life by fortifying it against dirt and grit.

This he actually did in his latest car by enclosing the motor, valve mechanism and all moving parts. Thus they are impregnable to ruinous outside substances, absolutely dust-proof.

Accessibility Another Point of Saving

Much time is lost in the more complicated cars in making adjustments. Sometimes it is necessary to tear away a part of a car to reach another part. That extra effort requires considerable labor. Labor costs money. In cars where there is a litter of wires, rods and bric-a-brac to cope with, the labor expense for adjustments is huge.

But this expense is easily avoided.

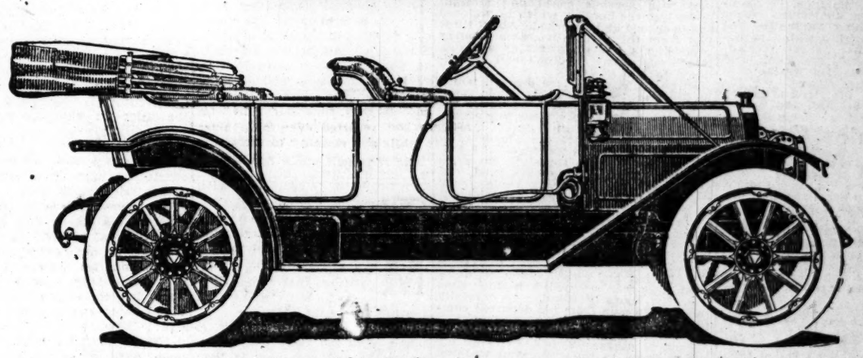

For in the HUDSON every part is within easy reach. Note its accessibility when you see the car. Note how there is not a part which cannot be reached without tearing away sections of the car.

This means much to the owner who plans to tour in his car.

These things, with the big tires, the demountable rims, the troubleless multiple disc clutch and other features too numerous to mention here, make the New Self-Starting Hudson "33" a car you should investigate before making your purchase.

If you have already decided upon a car, then let this be like the knowledge of a more attractive investment than the one you have considered.

Come see Howard E. Coffin's latest car at the Winter Automobile Exhibit TODAY.

The price for either of three models—Touring, five-passenger; Torpedo, four-passenger, or Roadster, two-passenger—is $1650. Not a cent more is needed to equip either car before it is ready for use, for top, Disco Self-Starter, Demountable rims, BIG tires, fore-doors, windshield, speedometer, large gas tank, magneto—dual ignition system—and all things usually listed as extras are included.

MILITIA MAJOR HIT IN THE EYE IN FIGHT

Snowball Causes Scrimmage Between L. K. Robbins, N. G. M., and E. G. Burkham.

Maj. Leroy K. Robbins, First Regiment, N. G. M., is wearing a dark-hued decoration around one of his eyes as the result of an encounter with Elzy G. Burkham, a brother of Robert Burkham, who formerly was secretary to the Mayor and now is in the City Counselor's office.

The clash took place at King's highway, between Lindell boulevard and Maryland avenue, last Saturday morning, according to Robbins' father, E. C. Robbins, president of the St. Louis Well Machine and Tool Co. The elder Robbins said his son was struck in the back of the neck with a snowball shortly after he had passed Burkham and two other men. He turned and questioned them and an exchange of fisticuffs followed.

E. C. Robbins said a patrolman appeared and wanted to arrest Burkham and his companions, but Maj. Robbins pardoned them on condition that they apologize. Burkham and Maj. Robbins reside at the Buckingham Hotel.

SENATOR HITCHCOCK DEMANDS U. S. PAY FOR PANAMA GRAB

Nebraskan Tells Colleagues It Is Time to Act With Decency With Colombia.

WANTS RECORDS OF DEAL

Says in Support of Resolution Arbitration Should Settle Canal Zone Dispute.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—"The conspiracy which resulted in the dismemberment of the Colombian Republic occurred in the United States, with the approval of the highest United States officials, and the spoliation was largely in the interest of a combination of influential capitalists who controlled the French Panama Canal Co.," declared Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska in the Senate today.

Hitchcock was speaking in support of his resolution calling upon the President for the complete correspondence with Colombia in connection with the canal. From this, he said, he expected the people would know "whether we are honest and just, and whether the time has not come when we should act the part of decency, if not generosity, towards Colombia."

The Senator assailed the Washington Government's course and referred to what he said was a blunt declaration of former President Roosevelt, in a speech recently delivered in California, that he "took the canal zone."

Can't Hide It, He Says.

"It is not possible," he said, "to lock up in official archives the sensational and disgraceful record of our treatment of Colombia, our breach of solemn treaty, our instigation of an insurrection, our spoliation of a weak sister republic."

It was too late to restore Panama to Colombia, he declared, because the United States title to the Panama Canal and, through the influence of the United States, the existence of the Panama republic were settled for all time by international agreement. He believed, however, that justice would not be done until the canal controversy had been reopened and Colombia's claims against this Government for damages had been settled by arbitration.

"The American people know," continued Senator Hitchcock, "that President Roosevelt cut short all negotiations with Colombia for possession of the canal strip and, at the psychological moment, ordered the Nashville of our American navy to Colon, arriving there Nov. 2. On Nov. 2, a Colombia gunboat arrived with troops for garrison duty at Panama and at that time our American officers had reported everything quiet on the isthmus and that Colombia was in indisputable control of the province.

Cites "Comic Opera" Revolution.

"High officials in Washington were frantic for news as to the revolution, and the next day, while representatives of the American navy were retraining the troops which Colombia had sent to preserve order and to down any insurrection, that ridiculous comic opera revolution occurred in the town of Panama, a few miles away.

"The American people knew that if the 500 troops of Colombia had been permitted to reach the town of Panama there would have been no revolution. This was done, notwithstanding a solemn treaty of peace and friendship existing between the United States and Colombia's sovereignty on the Panama Isthmus in return for certain rights and privileges which the United States had secured there.

"The pretense for all this was that Colombia had refused to accept United States' terms as to the Panama Canal. We were proposing to buy from the Panama Canal Co., represented by Cromwell and other New York financiers, their rights to the Panama Canal. Whatever rights they had, came from Colombia.

Right to Reject Treaty.

"Our representatives drew up a treaty under which the United States was to pay the company and secure the rights in the canal strip needed to perfect its title. Either Government had a right to reject the treaty. It was naturally ratified by the United States, but Colombia finally rejected it because it had no power to surrender sovereignty over the strip without some amendment to its Constitution. Colombia was absolutely within her rights."

Senator Hitchcock referred to the pending arbitration treaty as likely to lead to entanglement with Great Britain and said he would like to know why "some of these associations that are spending Andrew Carnegie's money and some of these orators talking for arbitration under his pay do not advocate arbitration of this claim of our sister republic."

SKETCH OF THE SCHIFF VALET AS HE APPEARED IN COURT

FOLKE E. BRANDT.
DRAWN from LIFE by CESARE

GOV. DIX ASSAILS BRANDT AS NOT WORTHY OF PARDON

Declares Prisoner's Attack on Woman's Honor More Despicable Than Burglary.

By Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 1.—Declaring Folke E. Brandt is a self-confessed forger, Gov. Dix has issued a statement saying he will justify and maintain his determination that Brandt is not worthy of a pardon until it is conclusively shown that the former valet of Mortimer L. Schiff did not commit the crime for which he was sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment. The Governor says the statement is his "farewell word" in the case unless the higher courts set aside the writ of habeas corpus releasing Brandt.

The Governor declares he has no regret for his action, and offers no excuses. Moral as well as legal considerations, he says, influenced him.

Referring to the statement of Brandt and his attorneys that no attempt was made to attack the honor of a woman in the prisoner's appeal for clemency, the Governor says:

"There remains only to say that the application for clemency does include statements of a scandalous nature and which reflect upon the integrity and honor of a woman who is mentioned by name.

His "Duty to Protect Names."

"In the exercise of executive discretion it is as much my duty to protect the fair name of a woman and a mother who has never had an opportunity to defend that which is dearer than life and liberty as it is to protect the much-mooted legal rights of one who has been convicted of a crime upon his own plea of guilty.

"I decided that, upon Brandt's own admissions and statements, he was not a proper subject for executive clemency, without regard to the truth or falsity of his sworn statements and admissions in open court. In the letters submitted to me, he has attempted to disprove the crime to which he formerly pleaded guilty by stating facts and uttering insinuations which would make him guilty of a still more abhorrent offense, an offense against the sanctity of the home by an accusation I utterly disbelieve. I refused, through the exercise of executive clemency to condone a wrong more despicable and insiduous than burglary or assault by blasting the character and reputation of a woman on the unsupported statement of a self-confessed forger, who, in the letter which is before me, calls God to witness the truth of present statements which contradict those which he previously uttered under oath.

"But while I frankly and deliberately base my refusal to extend clemency upon the fact that in his effort to secure a pardon, Brandt has not scrupled to attack the honor of a woman, and to invade the sanctity of a home, I also declare my conviction that the facts in the case, as presented to me, by no means indicated that the law had been violated in the conviction and sentence thereupon."

To sustain this point the Governor points out that while District Attorney Whitman has expressed publicly the opinion that Brandt's indictment, conviction and sentence were illegal, he did not make any reference to such a contention in his report to him, or urge a full and immediate pardon for the former valet.

ORCHIDS FOR THE KING

Collection Worth $10,000 Goes in Wool-Lined Boxes.

SAN MATEO, Cal., March 1.—A shipment of 1500 rare orchids gathered largely in the Philippines and Central America and valued at $10,000 has left a local nursery for England, consigned to the collections of King George, the Duke of Westminster and the Duke of Sutherland.

Preliminary shipping tests were made by sending plants to England and return in wool-lined boxes. These were successful.

DISTURBS AUDIENCE

If you have any curiosity about the number of people here who have had coughs just notice the next time you are at church or in any public gathering. You will hear someone coughing almost all the time.

We have said before in this paper that there is an unusual amount of bronchial trouble now and this is because so many people neglect it.

There is no excuse for letting a cough hang on for months and years. The proof of this fact is that a remedy which cures stubborn cases right along would cure at first if taken then as it should be.

Mrs. E. B. Millard of Middletown, N. Y., says: "Having used Vinol for chronic bronchitis which I have had for three or four years I can recommend it highly. It has given me very satisfactory results."

Take Vinol right away, and it will build you up, and stop your cough. It is doing this for thousands of others.

We pay back your money if you are not satisfied with Vinol. Chester Kent & Co., Chemists. For sale by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo.

RICH PLANTER FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING

Hughes, Who Escaped in Three Other Cases, Convicted of Slaying Memphis Jockey.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 1.—J. J. Hughes, a wealthy planter of Haynes, Ark., was convicted here today of the murder of Thomas Dolan, a jockey, in a Memphis hotel last July 9. The verdict makes it optional with the court whether the penalty shall be life imprisonment or hanging.

Hughes declared the shooting occurred in a fight with Dolan. His counsel appealed for a new trial.

Hughes has been tried for three other killings in his career, but each time escaped punishment, and in the present case he was brought to trial only after a long legal struggle.

STERN IS FREED OF REVOLVER CHARGE

Prosecutor Refuses to Press Case Against Man Who Caused Two Arrests.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Rudolph Friday refused to issue a warrant charging Jacob A. Stern with carrying concealed weapons. The police had held Stern two and a half hours because he had a revolver when he caused the arrest of William Neves and William J. Barker, employes of the Chicago Wrecking Co.

Stern is a member of the firm of Stern & Goldberg, which purchased the iron from the Barr Building now being wrecked. He accused Neves and Barker of taking a jack-screw from a vacant lot leased by Stern & Goldberg, at Seventeenth and Chestnut streets. Stern denied that he habitually carried a revolver, and said he took it from his desk when he saw the men driving away with the jack-screw. Warrants charging them with petit larceny were issued.

To Grow Hair on a Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequaled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavona de Composee, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Do not apply to the face or where hair is not desired.

Judge & Dolph, this city, state that they have filled it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.—ADV.

ROGER MAY GIVE STEINFELDT AND EWING A TRYOUT

Cardinals' Manager Announces That Both Have Been Instructed to Report.

TO WORK AT WEST BADEN

If They Show Anything at All They Will Surely Be Given Berths.

By W. J. O'CONNOR.

Harry Steinfeldt, ancient third sacker, and Bob Ewing, veteran hurler, both free lances in the baseball world, may be full fledged members of the Cardinal clan before the bell taps for the big inaugural April 11. Before departing for West Baden early Friday morning, Manager Bresnahan of the Robison Field Cadets announced that he had instructed both Steinfeldt and Ewing to report at the Indiana Spa and work out with the Cardinals.

This announcement caused no little surprise among the sanguine Cardinal rooters. That Bresnahan should hire two men who were discarded by almost every National League club is more than the Cardinal fans could understand. To them it meant that Bresnahan had taken a tack in the wrong direction.

No Place for Spavs.

Roger long ago decreed that the spavs should find no employment on his ball club. His scheme was to build up a team of youngsters. He fired Catcher "Chink" Phelps, who comes back into the big arena this year with Brooklyn; Fiddler Frank Corridon, Johnny Lush, Vic Willis and others who were getting along on the shady side of life, to make room for youngsters like Ivey Wingo, Roy Golden, Bill Steele and Jakie Geyer. He indicated that he would develop youngsters, and he did develop them, bringing out Hauser, Magee, Smith, Ellis and a batch of pitchers in one season. Therefore his decision to hire Steinfeldt and Ewing proved puzzling.

The answer for retaining Harry Steinfeldt may be found in the fact that Mike Mowrey, the firey-haired Cardinal third sacker, is a holdout. Mike has not reported and has not been asked to report. He returned a contract sent him and Bresnahan will not send another. So the Duke has decided to fortify himself by hiring Steinfeldt.

Steinfeldt an Old Vet.

However, Bresnahan has not signed either Steinfeldt or Ewing. He will give them a chance and if they show promise he will put them on the reserve list. Steinfeldt is well on in years, but there are some who think he still can "get by" in the big ring. His last engagement was with Boston, where he went after being let out by Manager Chance of the Cubs. Previous to his Chicago engagement he was with Cincinnati.

Ewing pitched for the Phillies last season. He worked as relief pitcher in the early part of the season with indifferent success. His best record was made with Cincinnati. In 1908 he won 17 and lost 15 for the Rhinelanders. In 1910 he was with the Phillies and won 16 and lost 14. He's a right-hander.

Feels He Needs Help.

By grabbing Steinfeldt and Ewing, Bresnahan also indicates that he will make desperate efforts to pilot the Cards into a first-division berth this season. Ewing is a seasoned pitcher and may be of value as a relief man for the Cardinal youngsters. Last year Bresnahan staggered along with a hurling staff composed entirely of youngsters, and not infrequently he had to send in a "kid" pitcher to stem the tide of defeat at a very crucial and ticklish moment. Substituting a youngster for Harmon or Sallee, who are not vets themselves, in the ninth inning, with the bases full, is surely applying the acid test. Too often the juveniles wilted under fire. This year, however, Bresnahan proposes to have a seasoned veteran on hand to take up the burden when the youngsters tire.

As for Steinfeldt getting Mowrey's job, there's little chance. Wallie Smith will go to third should Mowrey remain obstinate; but just wait and see if Mowrey isn't in the band wagon before the spring series with the Browns begins.

Cardinal Sidelights.

Bresnahan was very much at sea when the time came for the Cardinals to depart Friday. Only half of the squad was on hand, and Roger was not certain that he would find the missing ones at West Baden. He left here with the following players: Koney, Hauser, Smith, Evans, Oakes, Willis, Sallee, Laudermilk, Steele, Wingo, Baker and Dale.

Word from West Baden says that Lee Magee, Miller Huggins, Roy Golden, Jakie Geyer, Joe Willis, Eugene Woodburn, Ten Million and Jack Reise already are at the Springs.

Among the missing are Mike Mowrey, a hold-out; Bob Harmon, who has the mumps; Jack Bliss and George Ellis, who are snowbound in Kansas, and a batch of the youngsters who have not been heard from.

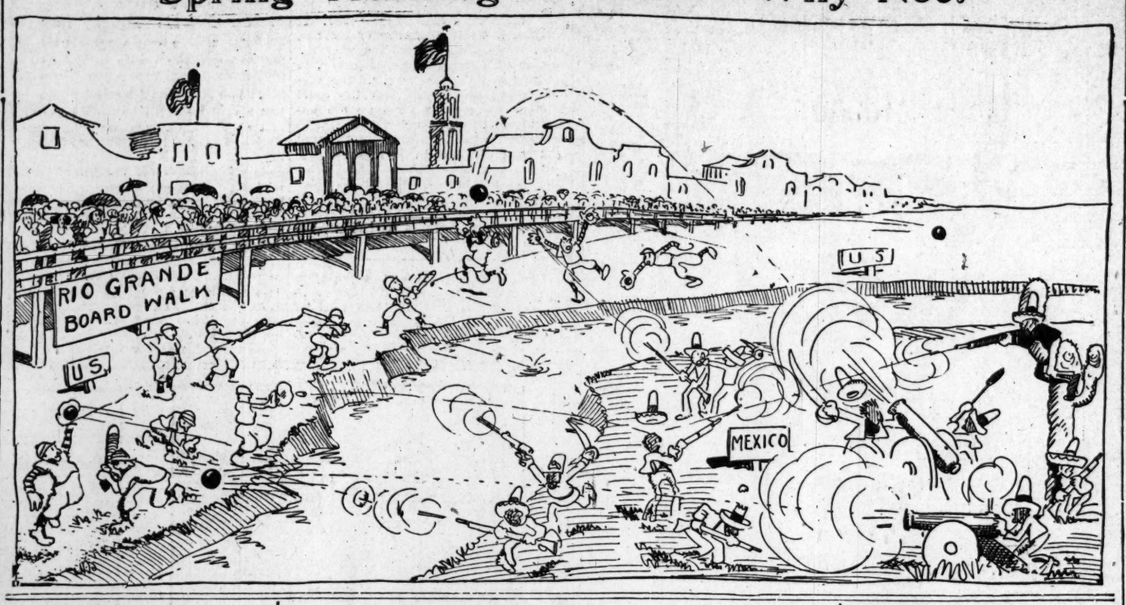

Failure of Frank Gilhooley or Virgil Piddington to communicate with Bresnahan has worried the Cardinal chief. Roger wants Gilhooley, the hard-hitting young outfielder, to be on deck early, if possible. Gilhooley reported here last season and took offense at Bresnahan when Roger ordered him into the game on short notice. Gilhooley jumped the team, but during the winter advised Roger that he was willing to return. Piddington has signed up, and promised to report before March 2.

Bresnahan has rounded up another player. The new-comer is Van B. Gallimore, 26 years old, who now is counting cash in a national bank at Cobden, Ill. He will be given a trial at West Baden.

Charlie Spencer, the crack shot, is the Cardinal mascot this year. Spencer made the trip to West Baden, and promises to go over the hurdles with Koney.

Ned—Marry me. I dreamed you got the diamond ring on credit of Lottie. Call me up.

Spring Training in Texas—Why Not?

Hawaiian Star to Get Berth on American Team

Kahanamaku, Famed Swimmer, Has Record of 55 2-5 Seconds for 100 Yards.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Duke Kahanamaku, representative of the Hui Malu Swimming Club of Hawaii, who took first place in both the 50 and 100 yard swimming races at the preliminary trials for the American Olympic team which were held at Pittsburg last Saturday, has accepted the invitation of George Kistler to use the University of Pennsylvania pool to train in before the departure of the United States team for Stockholm the latter part of June.

Although Kahanamaku has not as yet really made the team, he is sure to be one of the swimmers chosen to wear the colors of this country. In practice his time of 55 4-5 seconds for the hundred is remarkable, being a second and a fifth faster than that of Cecil Healey, the Australian, who holds the world's record for the distance in salt water. In fresh water over a straightaway course the Hawaiian has negotiated the distance in 55 2-5 seconds.

Harry Davis to Have Only Four 1909 Naps on This Year's Team

CLEVELAND, O., March 1.—When Manager Davis of the Naps assembles his entire squad at Mobile about March 10 there will be in the aggregation only four players who trained at Mobile in the spring of 1909. They are Infielders Lajoie and Turner, Outfielder Birmingham and Catcher Easterly, that being Ted's first experience as a Nap. Of the others, Joss is dead, Cy Young is a National Leaguer, Bris Lord is one of the world's champions, Nig Clarke is with Washington, Stovall has also been traded to St. Louis, Bill Bradley has gone to Toronto, while Berger, Perring, Liebhardt, Bemis, Hinchman Josh Clarke, Flick and Falkenberg went down via the American Association route. None of the real recruits of that season has done much to disturb the equilibrium of the baseball world.

Only two training sessions in between and but four players are left. That certainly is a marked example of how quickly a big league team that appears to have championship class may disintegrate. Cleveland had finished the season of 1908, the runner-up by half a game. Yet in three years only four players who made that great struggle are left and one of the four, Turner, played in but few games that campaign, being out of it altogether when Cleveland was making its desperate fight.

JOHNSON WILL SPAR WITH TRAINER HERE

Jack Johnson and his sparring partner plan to include a boxing exhibition in their part of the show at the Standard Theater next week. Inasmuch as boxing has been permitted at the different athletic clubs in St. Louis, it is believed that the police authorities will have no objection to Johnson's friendly exhibition with his trainer. A punching bag platform is also being erected on the Standard stage and the champion will give an exhibition in this line also.

McFarland Scores a Knockout.

CLEVELAND, O., March 1.—Packey McFarland proved to Cleveland fight fans that he carries a wallop, by knocking out Tommy Devlin of Philadelphia in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout before the Eagles Club here last night. The referee stopped the fight to save Devlin from being counted out, but the Philadelphian was knocked cold and was not revived for several minutes.

9-Game World Series Advocated by C. Mack

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 1. The movement to extend the world series to nine games instead of seven found an ardent supporter today in Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics.

"I favor nine games," he said, "because the result would be more satisfactory to the fans as regards the merits of the competing teams. It would also help to kill that absurd belief entertained by some people that the games are fixed in advance."

WRAY'S COLUMN

CAN YOU GOLF BLINDFOLDED?

A LONDON golfer has entered into a unique competition. He agrees to play even up against one of the best amateurs in London, making all his shots blindfolded. The other man, of course, plays normally.

Shades of tradition! What's become of the pet theory as to "keeping the eye on the ball," to oppose which is still as hideous a violation of the sanctity of long observance as forcing an entrance to the forbidden city of Lhassa.

NOT AN ANANIAS LIE.

The golfer is a Mr. Toogood, a most appropriate name. Of course, he is permitted to glance at the "lie," on each shot, before the blinkers are put on. In this interval he must size up his shot, observe all he wants to know about it and take his stance. Then come the curtains. After this he is supposed to be able to strike the ball accurately from the tee, on the green or elsewhere on the course it may be.

Furthermore, in practice stunts, Toogood does what he says he can, holing six-foot puts and making 200-yard drives with precision.

Toogood, in making the match, is an iconoclast, in that he attacks the "eye-on-the-ball" ideal. He maintains that this is an absolute fallacy and that the main thing is a rigid stance. His demonstration will be worth reading about.

THE WAY YOU LOOK AT IT.

MR. TOOGOOD has nothing on some others in one respect. Almost any baseball player, for example, can play golf quite as well blindfolded as with his sight unimpaired.

IS McFARLAND OVER-RATED?

PACKEY McFARLAND may be a great boxer but he will have to show something in his hand other than he has been holding to view of late to convince a majority of citizens that he is anything more than merely clever. Chopping up Tommy Devlin, barely escaping defeat at the hands of Eddie Murphy and gaining a questionable verdict over Tommy Murphy is not a convincing performance. If Wolgast comes back to form without suffering injury to his pugilistic prowess through the operation he underwent, he need have no fear about taking on the bear from the stockyards, if the bout is 25 rounds or more.

None knows it better than Wolgast, who has already offered to meet McFarland at 20 rounds and let him weigh 135 at 3 p. m. But Packey is there with the catchy stuff. His battles with Welsh classify him as about even with that clever lad: Flashy rather than dangerous.

A GROUNDLESS SCARE.

MARTIN DELANEY warns the business men of Chicago that their lack of physical activity is leading them to a hopelessly flat-foot condition. But when did Chicago ever worry about its feet? It's fear of the flat-head that annoys the Windy Cityan.

THAT'S WHERE THEY ALL FALL.

LARRY McLEAN is driving the water wagon at a terrific pace down at Columbus, Ga., where the Reds train. Hit 'er up, Larry, on the straightaway. But look out for the clubhouse turn.

NATIONAL COMMISSION NEEDED.

HUGH McINTOSH, when he asked the New York Boxing Commission to suspend Jim Flynn for violating a contract, evidently thought the sphere of activity of this organization was national. It isn't, and Flynn will be permitted to roam about the country untrammeled, picking up a breakfast here and there for Jack Curley and himself.

But wouldn't it be desirable if every state had a boxing commission and if they all acted under a common agreement, one which barred the cheater, the contract breaker, the welcher and all other undesirable species of the genus pug?

The rag-tag and bobtail camp followers that have done all the jobbing and under handed work and have hurt the game grievously in the past would be eliminated. Even Jack Johnson would be forced to keep theatrical and other engagements to which his word has been passed.

But the millenium apparently is not even on its way.

AND FOR A CRICKET RESULT!

TALK about enthusiasm: The London Times prints a 750-word account of a cricket game played in Sydney, Australia, Feb. 16. It was a cable report and must have cost close to $1000 in mere telegraph tolls.

GLINTS FROM THE DIAMOND

When the rear guard of the White Sox left Chicago Thursday evening for Waco, Tex., three veterans were numbered among the missing. Lee Tannehill is laid up with a sprained ankle, Matty McIntyre has not signed his contract, while Pat Dougherty intends to quit the game. Pity James John Callahan!

Doc Scanlon, who extracts molars in the winter time and baffles batters in the summer, has refused to join the Phillies and Manager Dooin is worried. Scanlon claims that the Brooklyn club has failed to pay him $800 back salary and until this deficit is made up, he will not report to Dooin. The latter has appealed to the National Commission. Scanlon was traded to Philadelphia for "Smoke" Stack, a spitballer.

The All-Americans trimmed the All-Nationals, 4—1, in a game at Hot Springs, Thursday, and Mr. Riggs, the Brownie recruit, got his daily bingle. Riggs manages to pole a safety in each engagement. Second Baseman Cutshaw of the Brooklyn club nailed two two-baggers and a single out of four trips to the plate.

Hughey Jennings, tactician for the Royal Bengals, is trying to make a pitcher out of Ralph Works. Ralph has the same trouble as Roy Golden: he "blows" with men on the bases. And, according to Hoyle, this is a sure-enough weakness.

Latest bulletin from Columbus, Ga., where the Reds are encamped, says that Larry McLean has taken off 20 pounds and is still "reducing." If Hand O'Day can make Larry behave, he will be considered a success as a manager, regardless of the Reds' ultimate position in the race.

Kirby Samuels, the ebony-hued trainer of the Cardinal clan, knows his business. Kirby has hired an assistant, "Charlie," who for years was chief masseur for the Smith Academy football players. After Bresnahan puts his men over the jumps at West Baden, there is a great demand for liniment and massages. Kirby is prepared to supply the demand.

Johnny Bates, one of the two hold-outs on the Cincinnati club, has signed up. He's ready to start for training quarters at once. President Herrmann says he has reached an agreement with Dick Hoblitzell, the handsome dentist who first-sacks for the Reds, and who also has been dissatisfied with his salary. Hoblitzell and Bates soon will report to Manager O'Day.

Hub Northern, once a Brownie, later a Red, and now a Superba, is missing from the Brooklyn training quarters at Hot Springs. Hub has threatened to break into the big arena on many occasions, but he hasn't made good at yet.

Manager Bresnahan admitted Thursday that he had turned down Cy Seymour's offer to play with the Cards. However, Roger didn't hesitate to book Steinfeldt and Ewing.

Joe Crisp, the former Newark catcher who reported to the Browns in 1911, and later was released to the Topeka (Western League) club, has been signed by Manager Kling of the Boston Nationals. Rariden will be Kling's mainstay behind the bat.

Connie Mack is said to feel very much grieved now that he has won the 1911 pennant at the expense of giving Joe Jackson away. He traded the great Nap outfielder to the Cleveland club in midseason in the summer of 1910 for Briscoe Lord and thereby lost one of the greatest stars of the game.

Bob McCreary, the bank clerk who discovered Ty Cobb down in Royston, Ga., in 1900, has managed to get his advertising out of it at last. It has been quite a number of years since Bob got into the columns of the big dailies, but he is satisfied now.

Magnates of the Three-I League decided upon May 2 as the opening day of the 1912 season. The opening games will be as follows: Peoria at Quincy, Decatur at Davenport, Danville at Dubuque, Bloomington at Springfield. The franchise of the Rock Island team, which had been allowed to lapse during the last year, was awarded to Decatur.

"Little Joe" Casey, the Tiger catcher, may be dropped if some of the other sub catchers on the team make good. Either Onslow or Kocher, or both of them, may make good and Casey will be dropped because he is not large enough to suit.

Billiter's Roll Here Awaiting Luttbeg Money

Bout for Lightweight Mat Title Promises for Once to Be on the Level.

Sam Jordan, manager of John Billiter of Toledo, who claims he is lightweight champion of the wrestling game, is in St. Louis today hiding behind a bankroll which he wants the admirers of one Max Luttbeg to notice first of all. Luttbeg, it may be recalled, is to meet Billiter at the St. Louis Rowing Club Sunday afternoon, to settle the much-mooted question of the championship.

Billiter's claim to the title rests upon a defeat of Luttbeg in jig time. Luttbeg insists that this match was to have been an exhibition and that he was told beforehand it was not to be for the title. He was double-crossed, he says. Whatever is the truth, Billiter certainly won the match.

But Billiter's claims are again in doubt through the defeat he suffered here at the hands of Al Wasem, a local boy. Wasem had lost one fall after over two hours of wrestling, but put Billiter out of commission for the match a few minutes after the second fall began.

However, none believes yet that Wasem is good enough to beat Billiter or Luttbeg.

Luttbeg is the greatest wrestler of the times in knowledge of the game, but there is grave doubt if he is of the same iron timber he was ere he passed the two-score mark in years. Billiter is no chicken. He is in the thirties and has been wrestling for years. He is tough-grained and enduring, and will be a hard proposition.

As to this bank roll of Billiter's, Jordan insists that Wasem's friends can have it toto, or in sections, if they can win it at even money. The men, so the stage whisper utters, have already wagered 1000 bones on the bout (here lower the voice and give the S on the end of bones, a sibilant sound as in rats)!

HEATH IS LEADING M. A. C. POINT CUP

By winning the 100-yard swim and finishing second in the 220-yard event, Chauncy Heath managed to retain first place in the struggle for the point trophy at the M. A. C. tank Thursday evening. Heath now has a total of 84 points for the season. Monafred Toeppen, who won the fancy diving and plunge for distance events Thursday evening, is second with 65.

One of the pleasing features of Thursday's paddle was the showing of Eddie Roos in the 220-yard swim. The high-school boy negotiated the distance in 2m. 57s., the best mark made this season in the closed M. A. C. meet. Roos is third to Heath and Toeppen in the race for the point cup. The standing:

ST. LEOS WILL PLAY LONG HALVES SUNDAY

The St. Leos and Innisfails, one-two members of the St. Louis Soccer League, who meet in the feature game of the double-header at Athletic Park next Sunday afternoon, have agreed to play 45-minute halves. This is 15 minutes longer than the customary time of periods for the teams. Manager Foley of the Innisfails agreed to the longer sessions for two reasons. One will give the St. Leos good practice for the games to be played in the East. Foley believes his team has a better chance of beating the champions over the longer route.

The St. Leos-Innisfails game was originally scheduled as the opener, but will be played as the second show. The Columbus Club and Irish-Americans will furnish the curtain-raiser at 2 o'clock.

SPORT CAPSULES.

Dr. Arthur Kendrick McDonald, for years medical adviser of the Princeton U. Athletic Association, died at his home in Cleveland, Thursday.

Everett C. Brown, president of the central division of the A. A. U., says $20,000 must be raised to give the Middle West proper representation on the American Olympic team.

The Newstead Avenue Soccer Club will play at Reeb Station, Sunday afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Parochial School Athletic League will be held at C. B. C., at 8:30, Tuesday, March 5.

KIRK ARRANGES BUSY SCHEDULE OF BOXING BOUTS

Sullivan, First on List, Will Oppose Former Amateur Next Monday Night.

Oliver Kirk is cooking up a busy schedule for himself. His next bout will be against Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan at the Irish-American Athletic Club here. After that, on March 18, he will meet Willie Purcell in Cincinnati. Following this contest his next match will probable be before the Springfield (Mo.) Athletic Club, with Tommy Dixon or some other good scrapper.

Kirk is in his usual fine condition. Oliver seldom has to do much more than develop his wind and put his boxing on edge for his bouts. For the Sullivan affair he is doing 126 pounds, at which figure Sullivan will probably have an advantage of several pounds.

He'll need it, too, for Oliver is a much improved boy, although likely not the caliber of Sullivan in the days when Brooklyn Tommy was probably as good a six-round fighter as there was in the country at about 124 pounds. Tommy never liked the route—the only factor that ever kept him from climbing to the top of the ladder.

Purcell is a Cincinnati boy of local reputation only. Kirk will probably be able to care for him nicely.

Amateur Tourney Planned.

The Irish-American is planning another amateur boxing show to be held at the club's gym March 9. On Sunday, March 3, all amateurs who would like to compete in the various classes are asked to call at the club's quarters and show what they can do. The best material will be put on in the tournament.

There are letters at this office for Harry Trendall.

Coulon Going East.

Eastern bantamweights will soon be given their whirl at the crown now gracing Johnny Coulon's head. Having waged four stiff battles within a period of five weeks, the champion is mapping out his itinerary with the view of scooting toward New York for a fling at the 10-round game. Writes Coulon:

"Regarding the Burns bout, I won all the way and had Frankie almost out in the twentieth after knocking him down, and would have finished him in another round or two. The betting was something fierce, and even schoolboys had money up. The best my friends could get was 2 to 1, and if the verdict was a draw they lost on this proposition. A big bunch of money was wagered, and when the bout was over the Burns bettors were yelling for a draw, which would have won the money for them, but there was no chance, and I just breezed in.

John Is Busy Tourist.

"I have engaged in four fights in five weeks and have traveled 6000 miles, consequently I am entitled to a rest, which I need. After a short vacation at Hazelhurst, Miss., we probably will go to New York, where I box three men, Phillie McGovern, Young Salisbury and Joe Wagner. Tom McCarey and Jim Coffroth also want me on the coast, and if I box out there again I will manage to be on the ground at least six or seven weeks ahead of the contest, as I got a touch of the climate while training for my bout with Conley, and it had me scared. Will arrive home some time next week."

Young Togo, the stalwart Japanese, who gave away 15 pounds in the weights and held Bat Nelson for six rounds at Fort Smith, Ark., Monday night, is going to pick up a lot of change, according to dispatches from the battleground. He will be given another chance with the ex-champion, and also will get into a fistic fuss with Earl Denning, the local bantamweight, who continues to stick in the game.

Present plans call for a bout between Earl and Togo at Fort Smith a week from next Monday, the route to be six rounds. Nashville promoters are dickering with Denning for a bout on April 1, the opponent to be named later.

TINY TIM TAKES GUN AWAY FROM BAD MAN

NEW YORK, March 1.—Tim Hurst, the baseball umpire, took a loaded revolver away from an excited Spaniard in the barroom of the Hotel Bartholdi early this morning. The Spaniard had threatened to kill the hotel clerk when the latter tried to put him out of the cafe at the 1 o'clock closing hour.

Hurst, who was on his way to his room and saw the incident from the doorway, strode over to the Spaniard and wrenched the gun away after a brief tussle. Then he held the struggling foreigner by the arm until a policeman came. The Spaniard, who would not give his name, was locked up, charged with carrying a revolver and with disorderly conduct.

Frayne Draws With Burns.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 1.—Frankie Burns and Johnny Frayne, lightweights, were given a draw at the end of their 10-round fight here last night. The decision was unpopular with the crowd, which clamored for Burns. The bout was tame.

SPORT SALAD

OH, YOU BEAUTIFUL BALL!

Listen here, the time is near,
When the season opens and the boys will all be here;
Gates will soon be open wide,
My heart's afire with great desire:
Let me get into the game.
I never thought before that life could ever be so tame,
Till I left you some time ago
But now, you know, I love you so.
Oh, you beautiful ball! You great big, beautiful ball!
Let me with my willow clout you,
I could never live without you;
Oh, you beautiful ball! You big, white, beautiful ball!
I want to heave you till my arms will ache,
I want to slug you with my wagon stake;
Oh, oh, oh, oh, OH, you beautiful ball!
See the vet! He's stalling yet,
He won't be happy till a raise in pay he'll get;
Swears he's going to quit the game
Unless the boss should come across.
Please go 'way and let him dream,
He will have to hustle if he wants to make the team;
He was a star some time ago
And now, you know, he wants more dough.
Oh, you beautiful stall! You great, big, beautiful stall!
No one is concerned about you,
They can get along without you.
Oh, you beautiful stall! You great, big, beautiful stall!
If you quit the game nobody's heart will break.
This holdout business is a great big fake!
Oh, oh, oh, oh, OH, you beautiful stall!

Tips and Cues

Elmer Farrar, who won eight out of 11 games on his recent swing around the Eastern end of the National Amateur Three-Cushion League circuit, dropped the first game to Charles Otis of Brooklyn at Peterson's, last night, 50—41. Otis made a run of 5, which was high for the game. Farrar's best was 3. The winner averaged .46.

Frank Bascom probably will represent St. Louis in the second game of the series tonight. This will be Bascom's debut as a three-cushion league player and his game will be watched with interest. In practice he has proved himself a sterling cueist.

OLYMPIC PROGRAM IS RECEIVED IN ST. LOUIS

John G. Nelson, Vice-Consul for Sweden in St. Louis, has received copies of the program of events and regulations of the Olympic games to be held in Stockholm June 29 to July 22. Accompanying the copies were posters, advertising the great athletic meet. Mr. Nelson says he will have these posted in the different hotels and athletic clubs in St. Louis.

While the presence of any St. Louis athletes in the games will depend on their success in the trial meets, it is probable that several St. Louisans will go to Sweden to witness the games. Mr. Nelson says he has received several inquiries regarding dates.

BROWNS WILL START WORK HERE MONDAY

WEST BADEN, Ind., March 1.—Manager Wallace is ready to pull up stakes and start for home. The Browns' manager announced today that he would leave here Sunday and be in St. Louis in time to start practice at Sportsman's Park Monday afternoon. The veterans who have sojourned here for a week have had enough of the waters and are ready to get back to dry land. The heavy rain made walking almost an impossibility here during the early part of the Browns' stay.

In a bowling match yesterday, three of the Brownies, Joe Lake, Tom Tennant and Red Nelson, were beaten by Manager Dooin and Sherwood Magee of the Phillies and Jack Hayden of the Louisville Colonels.

Local Boxers Are Beaten.

QUINCY, Ill., March 1.—Jack Hendricks of Chicago knocked out Young Gordon of St. Louis in the second round last night. Steve McGinley of Moline put Walter Kirsin of East St. Louis to sleep in the first round. Both were scheduled for 10 rounds.

LACK OF FUNDS SCARES FRIEND OF OLYMPIC T[eam]

Work of Arranging Tryout Held Up Through Subscription Delays.

NEW YORK, March 1.—"The athletic meet that the world has seen," was what James E. S[ullivan], secretary of the A. A. U., termed the Olympic games to be held at Stockholm next July.

"The competition for places on the American team is going to be close and hard fought. It naturally follows that once the enthusiasm begins to subside among the non-competitive classes and the public follow athletics closely the Olympic games will become a question of national importance from a sporting standpoint at least.

"It is a well-known fact that the United States at Athens America was represented by a small team; in 1900 at Paris we had a large and successful team, and in 1904 at St. Louis, 1906 at Athens and 1908 at London, the American team swept everything before it. In all these events there has been a certain amount of attention owing to the fact that the conditions were not just what they should have been at the different head-quarters where these games were held, due to great trouble in bringing as large a team as America has had to the foreign ports and getting accommodations such as the teams were in the habit of getting at home.

Athletes' Diet Watched.

"The American Olympic committee plans to take at least 100 athletes, how[ever] care for them, keep them aboard steamship in the harbor, give them a training table diet, so there may be no reason for anything going wrong. It is planned to have a special exercising ground on the lower deck. Partitions will be removed, and Trainer Murphy will have opportunity of seeing that the athletes care get proper exercise, sleep properly and eat properly.

"They will need this confidence, too, for I am told the games at Stockholm will be hard and most closely contested as has ever been. I am receiving all parts of the world the preparations being made for it is evident that the entry is far larger, the caliber of the and the contest for honors than ever before.

"I am confident that the U. S. will be victorious again, but it will be the best team ever entered for such a purpose. The competition will be so close that made by the other countries split up.

"I am not worrying over the outcome of the meet at this time, for the subscriptions are not coming in rapidly as expected by the solicitors ping the committee.

"If we can secure a quick response our subscription appeals the other matters will be mere routine already provided for. It's hard work for the committee right now, but it's going to be worth the trouble, for America is to send the greatest athletic team to Stockholm that ever left these or any shores."

Deshler Meets Ferns Again.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 1. Deshler of Boston and Willie Ferns of Kansas City rounds before the Grand Opera here tonight. The fighters met in the ring at 142 pounds, Deshler knocked out by Ferns here a year ago. The Boston boy is in good of condition at that time.

S.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE OF CATARRH

No remedy that does not entirely remove the cause of Catarrh from the blood will ever make a permanent cure of the trouble. Just as long as the circulation remains contaminated with the impurities and catarrhal matters which produce the trouble, the mucous membranes or inner linings of the body will be kept in a state of irritation and disease. Sprays, lotions and other local applications will sometimes temporarily relieve the tight, full feeling in the head, buzzing noises in the ears, uncomfortable, stuffy feeling of the nostrils, and help to loosen the mucus in the throat; but Catarrh is a constitutional blood disorder and until it has been entirely driven from the system there can be no permanent cure. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by removing the cause from the blood. It attacks the disease at its head and by thoroughly purifying and cleansing the circulation, and ridding it of every particle of impurity, and at the same time enriching the blood, allows the inflamed and irritated membranes to heal, improves the general health, and stops every disagreeable symptom. S. S. S. reaches down to the very bottom and leaves no trace of the disease in the system. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Today's News Is Mixed.

"The movement appeared to have little reference to the news developments of the day and the fact that the Woolen Trust had granted the demands of the Lawrence operatives had about as little influence here as had the news from the miners upon the London market.

"Some of the shares declined before the close to a level that was fractionally below the best, although the one was firm at the close when the market was a little quieter. Final prices were generally above yesterday.

"Investment buying continued in the bond market, and there were indications that some important new issues would be announced within a few days.

"The March 1 payments were heavy, and the large transactions financed by the banks indicated that outlay-requirements incident to preparations to handle spring business were gradually absorbing much employed money in this

COTTON MARKET IS HIGHER ON THE FOREIGN ADVICES

NEW YORK, March 1.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1@3 points on covering inspired by expectations of quick settlement of the English labor troubles and better Liverpool cables than due on the New York closing of yesterday. Offerings were light, and the market worked higher after the opening on bull support and a little covering, with prices touching the middle of the morning about 7 to 8 points higher.

Private cables attributed the advance in Liverpool to continental buying and a feeling that the attitude of the British Government would prevent any prolonged strike in the coal mines.

LIVERPOOL, March 1.—The following are the weekly statistics: Imports, all kinds, 134,000 bales; imports American, 106,000; stock, all kinds, 11,102,000; stock, American, 993,000; American forwarded, 80,000; exports, 27,000.

The market was rather more active late in the forenoon, but seemed to be entirely local, with prices ruling steady at a net advance of 7 or 8 points on continued support from trade sources and Wall street buying.

The market continued very quiet during the early afternoon, and while prices eased off 3 or 4 points from the best on generally favorable prospects for the settlement of the strike, prices held some of the 5 points net higher. The closing was steady.

Cotton—Spot closed quiet, unchanged; middling uplands, 10.40c; middling gulf, 10.65c. Sales, 3,500 bales.

Estimated receipts at all ports today, 28,000 bales, against 56,380 last week and 18,631 last year. For the week, 250,000, against 307,130 last week and 106,423 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 1976, against 6165 last year; at Galveston, 7094, against 6950 last year; and at Houston, 6014, against 3516 last year.

RECEIPTS AT PRINCIPAL POINTS: Galveston, 7994 bales, against 6950 last year.

New Orleans, 1970 bales, against 6165 last year.

Mobile, 275 bales, against 84 last year.

Savannah, 7901 bales, against 5889 last year.

Charleston, 1059 bales, against 34 last year.

Norfolk, 2848 bales, against 256 last year.

Houston, 6064 bales, against 3516 last year.

Memphis, 1599 bales, against 997 last year.

Net receipts at all United States ports for seven days were 286,647 bales, against 310,980 bales last week and 105,690 bales in 1911. Exported, 364,696 bales, against 114,019 last in 1911. Stock, 1,344,513 bales, against 704,231 in 1911.

Total receipts from Sept. 1, 1911, to date, 6,849,999 bales, against 7,689,019 bales for the corresponding period of the year prior.

FORTUNE FOR A CONVICT

Paroled So That He May Claim Estate.

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., March 1.—William Meyers left the penitentiary today on a parole free to return to Germany and claim a $75,000 estate. Meyers, while intoxicated, forged a check for $23 with which to treat friends. His five-year term would have expired next December, but the prison directors granted a parole because the estate will revert to others if not claimed soon.

BEAUTIFUL, LUSTROUS, HEAVY HAIR AND NO DANDRUFF OR ITCHY SCALP

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine and just try this—stops falling hair at once

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Ten minutes after applying all the dandruff will disappear, all itching will cease and there will be no more falling hair. Millions of men and women use Knowlton's Danderine and they never have dandruff, itchy scalp or falling hair—they know that it keeps the scalp clean and healthy and makes the hair grow heavy, long and beautiful.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—ADV.

CHINESE OUTLAWS KILL 8 PERSONS IN MISSION RAID

Scandinavian Survivors of the Slaughter on Nov. 24 Hide Six Weeks Afterward.

TWO ESCAPE IN POND

Buildings Battered Down and Fanatics Use Clubs to End Lives of Victims.

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—Bringing the first word of the massacre of eight persons connected with Christian missions by fanatical Chinese outlaws, last October, 24 mission workers arrived today on the liner China from the province of Shensi in Central China.

The victims of the slaughter were George Alstrand, 13 years old; Mrs. Richard Beckman, Zelma Beckman, 12; Ruth Beckman, 8; Hulda Bergstrom, 13; Oscar Bergstrom, 10; Hilda Nelson, 16; George Vantne, teacher at a mission school at Sian Fu.

The story of the massacre was told by the Rev. Philip Nelson, father of Hilda Nelson, of the Scandinavian alliance mission at Pinchow, who with his wife and their five children were passengers on the China.

Saved by Hiding in Lake.

In recounting the outrages of the Chinese, Nelson dwelt on the remarkable escape of Richard Beckman, who, after seeing his wife and daughter clubbed to death, waded into a lake with his 3-year-old daughter in his arms and in the darkness escaped.

"There were about forty persons associated with the Scandinavian mission stationed in the city of Pin Chow at the time of the massacre," said Nelson.

"We had heard nothing but the vaguest rumors of the revolution at Pin Chow, and on Oct. 16 we started for Sian Fu to attend a meeting of the missions there. Accompanied by my wife and daughter, Hilda, and other missionaries, we arrived at Sian Fu three days later. Hilda went out to the mission in the southern suburbs in charge of Mr. Beckman, while we remained at another station. On Oct. 21 news of the revolution reached Sian Fu and the band of marauders responsible for the massacre started on their career of murder and pillage.

"The mission was one of the first places looted by the robbers. The gates of the mission compound were stormed at 1 o'clock in the morning. The Chinese surrounded the house before the inmates had time to flee over a ladder placed for such an emergency at the rear wall. The house was barricaded, and the bandits went on their way after setting fire to the outer walls.

Hiding Place Broken Down.

"The women and children then hid in an outbuilding, while Beckman, with his little daughter, sought refuge in the shrubbery. Two of the marauders returned after a little while, kicked in the door of the outbuilding and killed all those who had hidden there, either clubbing them down in the doorway or beating them to death after a short pursuit. Beckman helped his daughter Selma and Vatne over the wall, but they were soon caught.

"From a conversation he overheard, Beckman learned that he and his baby daughter were the only ones left alive, and beaters soon commenced to work through the bushes in search of him. To escape them he waded to the middle of the shallow pond where he was hidden by the darkness. After about an hour, he heard commands given that the pond be guarded until daylight, except for the north bank, which was too steep to be climbed. Realizing that his only hope for life lay in that direction Beckman worked his way to that end of the pond and managed to place the baby on the top of the bank. Before he could climb up beside her, however, the little one began to cry, and he had to take her down and quiet her. Again he placed her on the bank, and again was he frustrated in his escape by the crumbling bank, which caved on top of him. The third time he was successful and made his way to a mission in another part of the city.

Bodies Unburied Three Days.

"The bodies of the slaughtered children and teachers lay where they had fallen for three days, when they were hastily buried by a company of soldiers. Later they were interred with full military honors."

The missionaries were shut in at Sian Fu for six weeks before it was considered safe for them to travel. They then made their way to the coast, giving a full report of the massacre to the American Consul at Hankow, who was to take up the matter with the authorities at Pekin. Beckman and his baby daughter were left at Shanghai when the party sailed on their return.

Other missionaries on the China were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bostick, and two children; Miss J. M. Dean, Dr. Anna Henry, Miss E. Hilty, J. A. Humphreys, Dr. F. A. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mitchell, the Rev. J. Muller, W. A. Richards, the Rev. and Mrs. E. Studdert and two children and Mr. and Mrs. T. Windsor and son.

HEN PAYS FOR CAR RIDE

BROCKTON, Mass., March 1.—On the way in from West Bridgewater today, a trolley car picked up a bewildered hen on the fender. The motorman lifted the fowl to a sand pail in the front platform. When the car got back to where the cackler had got on the fender, she flew off the pail, disclosing a fresh-laid egg.

An ordinary fresh-laid egg is worth 5 cents, which would have paid the hen's fare only in one direction. When the egg was broken open it was found she had paid both ways with a double yolk. It was the best she could do.
